Twitter Thread by Anu Satheesh ■■

Anu Satheesh ■■
@AnuSatheesh5

Mangottu Bhagavathi Temple
#Palakkad #Kerala
#keralatemples ■

Mangottu Bhagavathi Temple is situated in Athipotta near Alathur of palakkad district. Devi is kshipraprasadi here and grants relief to those who worship with full faith.
Mookken Chathen, situated on the Northern ■ side of the temple, is guarding Devi here.

Story says that, once there lived a weaver named Kuttan who was a Devi Bhaktan. During one festival time Kuttan was so pleased by the Devi Vigraham that he requested her to come along with him. At that time wind blew heavily and Cloths in Vigraham flew. Kuttan immediately decorated Devi with his cloth which stuck to Vigraham and returned to his village and with his Umbrella. Devi came with him in that Umbrella and stayed in his place. This place is Mangottu Bhagavathi temple now.

Amme Narayana

■■■

SREE MANGOTTUKAVU DEVASWOM OFFICE
ATHIPOTTA