The woes of an international traveller from the Land of the Leave alone, USA, even the good folks of Tbilisi know what to do when they see a Packie passport, even if carried by a 'celebrity'!

Here's a 'Travelogue' of a Green Passport holder to Brazil - Mexico - Panama City - Brazil. Khoob 'khaatirdaari' hui! Interestingly, she reports that Mexico had a RED ALERT ON PAKISTANI PASSPORTS!

Yesterday at 01:20 ·

This all started when I was planning a trip to Central America and South America. I spent many weeks and resources on the visa application preparations for the visas of multiple countries. Then upon receiving the visas, I thought like any other person that the big hurdle has passed, and it is time to pack bags. Lesson learnt from my last planing and I restarted my planning without touching the Europe zone.

Upon arrival in Brazil with a valid multiple entry Brazilian Visa,no problems faced and was swiftly given entry into the country, spent a few days in Brazil and had a wonderful stay. Then next to my list was Mexico, and I already had a multiple entry Mexican Visa. So I booked a flight to Cancun in Mexico from Brazil with a transit in Panama City.

As per my planned itinerary, I landed in Mexico and queued with other passengers at the immigration. I was soon singled out before reaching the immigration counter apparently on the basis of my “south asian” look. They asked me, “which passport do you have?”, upon looking at the Pakistani Passport, discussions begun in between the immigration staff. As this was happening, each and every passenger started to look with suspicion and started murmuring gossip with each other.

Once i reached the immigration counter, i was taken into a room for secondary screening. It was nothing extraordinary as Pakistanis rarely visit Mexico, so its fair for them to check all the documents and investigate. However, the way I was treated was horrible. They took all the information in a humiliating way and told me to wait for some hours as approval

Of course, there are people who vehemently cry that this supposedly photoshopped image is denting the 'image' of those that hold the Green Passport!

And why this 'paranoia' against 'innocent' Packie 'travellers', you asked?
Well, here's an example - the son of a V.E.R.Y senior Pakistan Air Force officer wanted to blow up the Times Square in New York not too long ago!
Of course, he was unrepentant for plotting to murder!

Unrepentant Times Square bomber pleads guilty '100 times'

Pakistani-born American Faisal Shahzad pleaded guilty on Monday to the Times Square car bomb bid "100 times"

Afp | June 22, 2010

NEW YORK: Pakistani-born American Faisal Shahzad pleaded guilty on Monday to the Times Square car bomb bid "100 times," defiantly warning of more attacks on the United States until it leaves Muslim lands.

Yup. Even the Hollywoodias know!
They don't trust those fcukers!
I'm not saying this, I'm merely quoting from this clip from 'Homeland' below.
Do watch.
I insist!
Totally worth the 33 seconds of your life that it asks for!

Leave alone Americans, even fellow 'birather mulk' Malaysia doesn't deem Pakistani airspace safe enough to fly over it! Here's a report from a Packie newspaper itself!

Malaysia Airlines denies nearly colliding with another plane over Pakistan

Reports claim plane had near-miss with Islamabad-bound Kuwait Airlines plane

Malaysia Airlines denied on Tuesday that a London-bound flight was involved in a near-miss with another plane in Pakistani airspace.

Following reports by Asian media outlets that one of the airline's planes headed to London narrowly avoided a collision in skies over Pakistan, according to the Mirror.

It had been claimed the flight nearly crashed with a Kuwait Airlines plane heading to Islamabad.

But Malaysia Airlines says it "strongly denies" the reports and said it does not even fly over Pakistan because of safety fears.

Now why is this so, one might ask.

Well .. Pakistan is a country where Parliamentarians PROUDLY flaunt successful terror attacks that have been carried out by their own country in other Nations.

This one talks about the Pulwama ki KAMYAABI of Feb 2019.

Do watch this video.

Then there are these 'chhoti-moti celebrities' who think nothing of doing what she does.
For context, this is Pakistani Singer Rabi Pirzada in a traditional dress remembering PM Modi!

Not just Parliamentarians and 'Chhoti-Moti Celebrities', but even the hoi polloi are just as ecstatic at their own youngsters picking up the gun and killing innocent people.
Then they cry at being treated like potential terrorists when they themselves travel abroad, legitimately!

In contrast, a senior commander of Lashkar celebrated Kasab as a "hero" who would inspire others to follow in his footsteps.

"This news is hell for us," Shahnaz Sughra, Kasab's aunt, told Reuters by phone. "...Even if he did something wrong, we just want his body. Even if he did something wrong, I am proud that he taught the enemy a lesson in their own country."

'Kenya Suspends Visa-Free Transit With Pakistan'

Kenya also knows that it is in their NATIONAL INTEREST to keep them from having a free run of their country as well!

Here's another PROUD citizen of Terroristan, this one calling for a 26/11 type attack in Dubai by his govt agencies because New Zealand cancelled their tour of Pakistan.
And then his countrymen cry buckets when put through extra screening when visiting other countries!

Heck, even the Afghans know what Terroristan truly stands for!
This is a V.E.R.Y interesting piece. Do read!

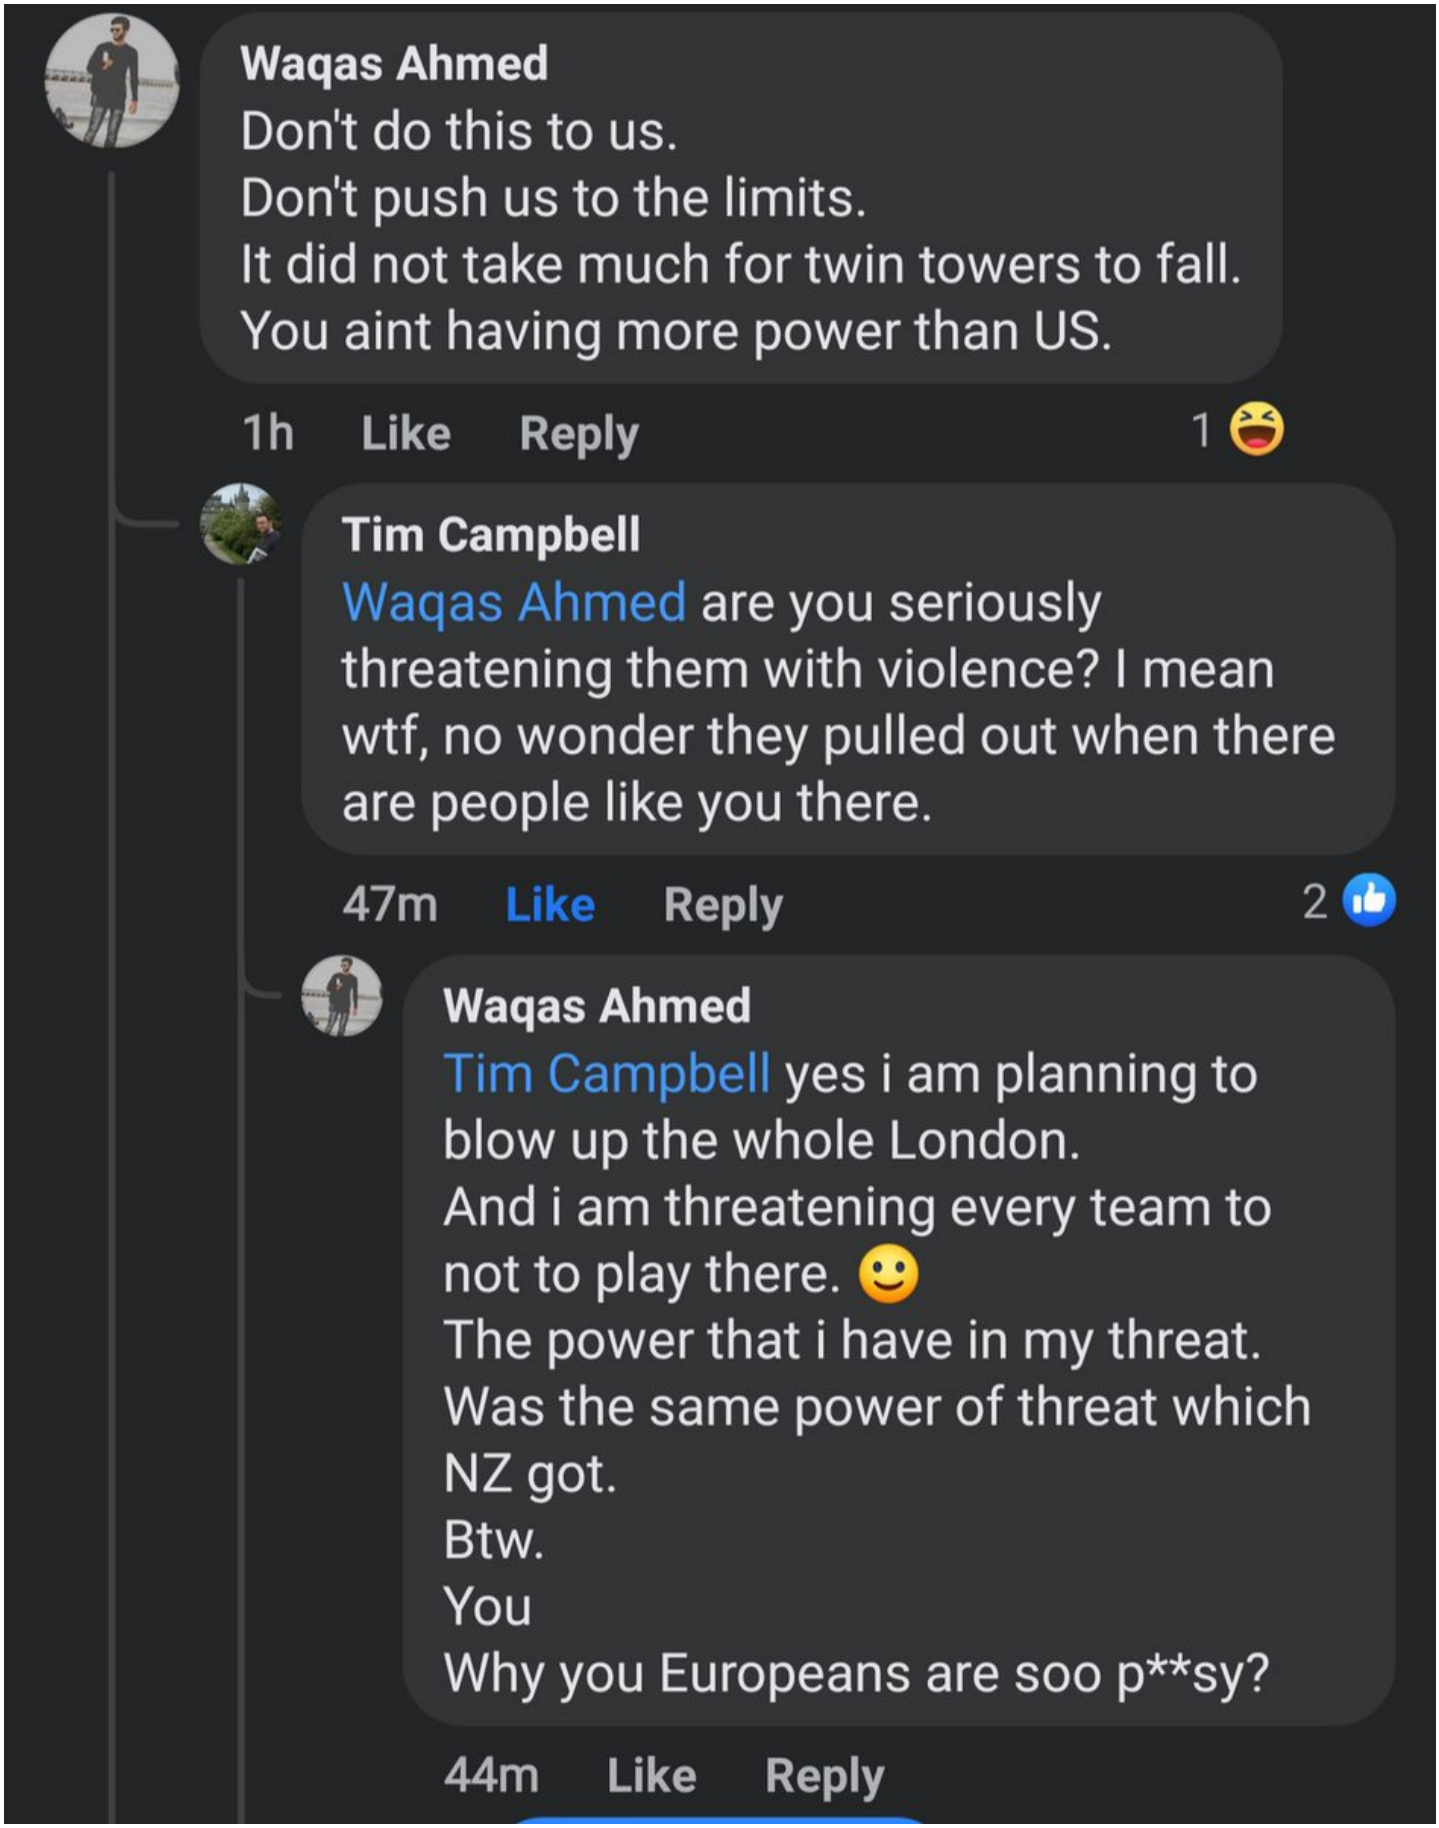
A Pakistani wonders why he's made to feel unwelcome in Afghanistan
Dated, but worth a read

The list of your average, everyday Pakistani and their fascination with terrorism is a never-ending one. This one so casually talks about the 9/11 terror attacks!
And the same idiots complain when people are cautious, or even reluctant to let them enter their countries!



Here is a Pakistani Army General serving 'fantastic' tea to Shri Nek Mohammad at Wana in April 2004.
The same Nek Mohammad that was killed by an American dron just about two months later, on 18 June 2004!
Yup, grant them 'hinder-free' access to your countries, Dear World!

Of course, they will keep killing American troops in Afghanistan and elsewhere too. But Americans should NOT hold that against them when they come visiting New York, even if one of them tries to blow up the Times Square!
Don't miss the loud applause in this video!

Pakistan: Little kids who have made wooden swords and want to behead Kafirs to get their berth booked in the Jannat!
Now imagine them in line to immigrate to some country which would naturally be populated majorly by these same 'kaafirs', and crying that they aren't permitted in!

Refer a couple of tweets above.
Here's the same Hamid Gul, who used to be the top man of the ISI of Terroristan, sharing the stage with 'world famous' terror leaders, including Hafiz Saeed of the Lashkar 'e Taiba that executed the 26/11 Mumbai Attacks

And NATURALLY, he complains when he himself is denied visa to visit foreign lands, including those whose soldiers may have died directly as a result of his actions!
https://t.co/CBTPtMf1hF

Or maybe they are just worried for the 'izzat' of their chickens, and don't want any more such specimens to immigrate and breed within their borders?

WHAT THE CLUCK Sick dad who had sex with family's pet chickens as wife filmed is jailed for three years

Paul Sims

A SICK dad was yesterday jailed for three years for having sex with the family's pet chickens.

Vile Rehan Baig, 37, abused the defenceless birds and romped with his twisted missus, Haleema, 38, at the same time.

Terroristan .. Since their very birth!

Here's ZA Bhutto, the most powerful civilian politician in 1971, greeting the highjackers of Air India 'Ganga' in Lahore in 1971.

Open and Brazen support of terror comes naturally to Terroristanis of all hues!

Remember the screenshot of the Packie so casually talking about 9/11, above in this thread?
Well, here's his own Prime Minister, reverentially remembering 'Shaheed' Osama bin Laden in the Pakistani parliament not too long ago.
Take that, world!

And this one is a doctor!
He would have taken a solemn oath to protect and save lives. But thanks to his upbringing, he chooses to do otherwise.
And mind you, he is merely one of potentially thousands such countrymen of his that has been caught

Thanks for your patience!

9/11 wasn't the first attempt at bringing down the Twin Towers. Just about half a decade earlier was the first major attack whereby an explosives laden vehicle was detonated in the underground parking lot, with the aim to bring them down.
The mastermind?
A Packie of course!
