This is a great article that touches on Stone's role in stop the steal, but the most important sentence is this:

"The radicalization of the Republican Party has altered the world of conservative media, which is, in turn, accelerating that

We aren't talking enough about the political insurgency into the Republican Party, and who is funding it.

From the article:

As Fuentes said on the "InfoWars" panel, "This is the best thing that can happen, because it's destroying the legitimacy of the system."
