@NicholasTyrone I think you have missed the essential point that we have now passed peak Brexit. From now on only the disastrous reality will come at us from all sides. 57% already were Remainers on the day we joined. Soon a huge majority will hate Brexit. I expect poll tax riots response level

@SpecCoffeeHouse @NicholasTyrone Already the biggest vote winner, fish , has turned out to be a disaster. We've ended up with a FTA smaller than the UK itself. Gibraltar joined Schengen, Falklands shafted. UK regions never wanted It. #BrexitReality . #Brexitbenefits , there are none. #Brexitears from now on @SpecCoffeeHouse @NicholasTyrone Remember too, this was a Tory internal civil war foisted on an uninterested country that they only won because of the #Austeridiocy policy falsely foisted after the financial crash. It was a protest vote. There are no benefits to Brexit. It's a #ToryBrexitShambles .

@SpecCoffeeHouse @NicholasTyrone There will only be one direction of travel now, back towards the EU. We are currently effectively a vassal state and #Whatsovereignty ? We have only lost it. We have also become a sprat in a puddle not the leading big fish in the big bloc, the EU. This was always a fishy affair

@SpecCoffeeHouse @NicholasTyrone Oh yes. We're also one of the biggest jokes on the planet, and will take centre stage as the worlds biggest Buffoon departs.... #Brexitisntworking #brexitleavesbritainnaked

@SpecCoffeeHouse @NicholasTyrone ... and don't forget that about 8 million adults didn't get to vote from being disenfranchised - 4 million taxpaying EU residents, 1.5 million expats, 2 million 16/17 year olds etc...
Not including the 30% who didn't vote and never got a 2nd chance.

@SpecCoffeeHouse @NicholasTyrone Oh yes and the UKref was advisory and the judge ruled it would have been annulled if it hadn't been just advisory.... #BrexitLies . Then there was all the dodgy stuff with CA and the Russians, never investigated , a right #Frauderendum16
All this will come back to haunt Brexit
