

Twitter Thread by Rosemary Burke

Rosemary Burke

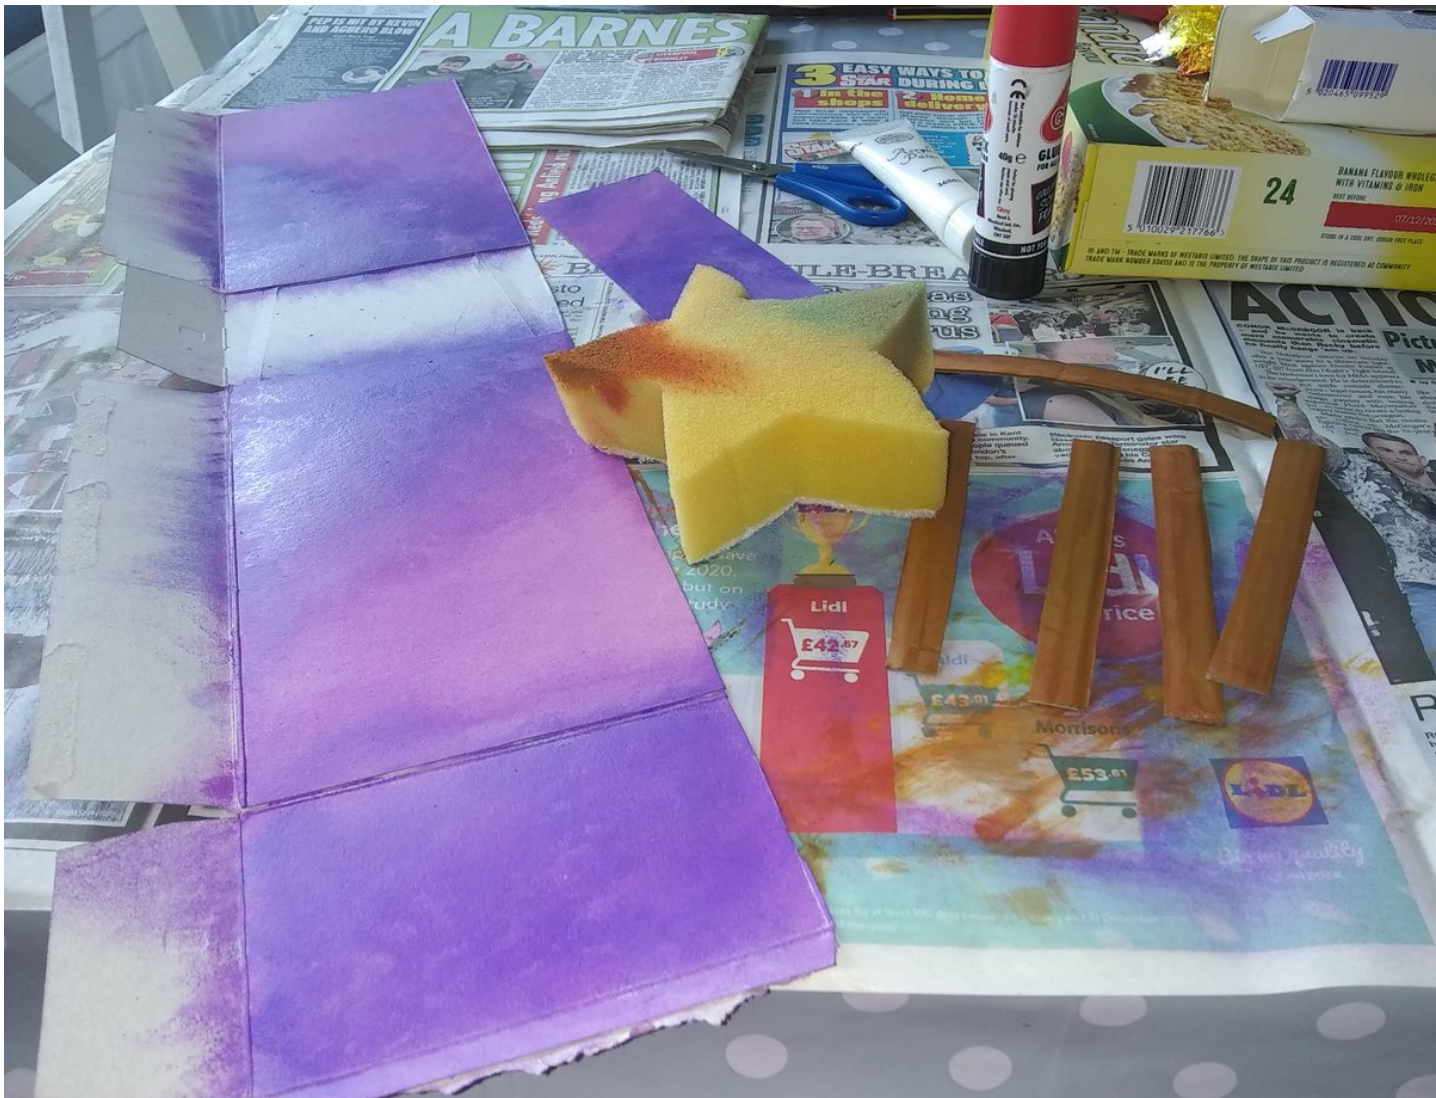

@Rosemarycalm

One of our TAs is having a go at creating a Book Nook. This is a work in progress.
Follow the thread. @ _Reading_Rocks_

<https://t.co/OtoUCJEeUj>

<https://t.co/5ntCi40tXd>

<https://t.co/Z4BWNCKKAA>

<https://t.co/2yP5ZtLKGX>

<https://t.co/wMQtlczds>

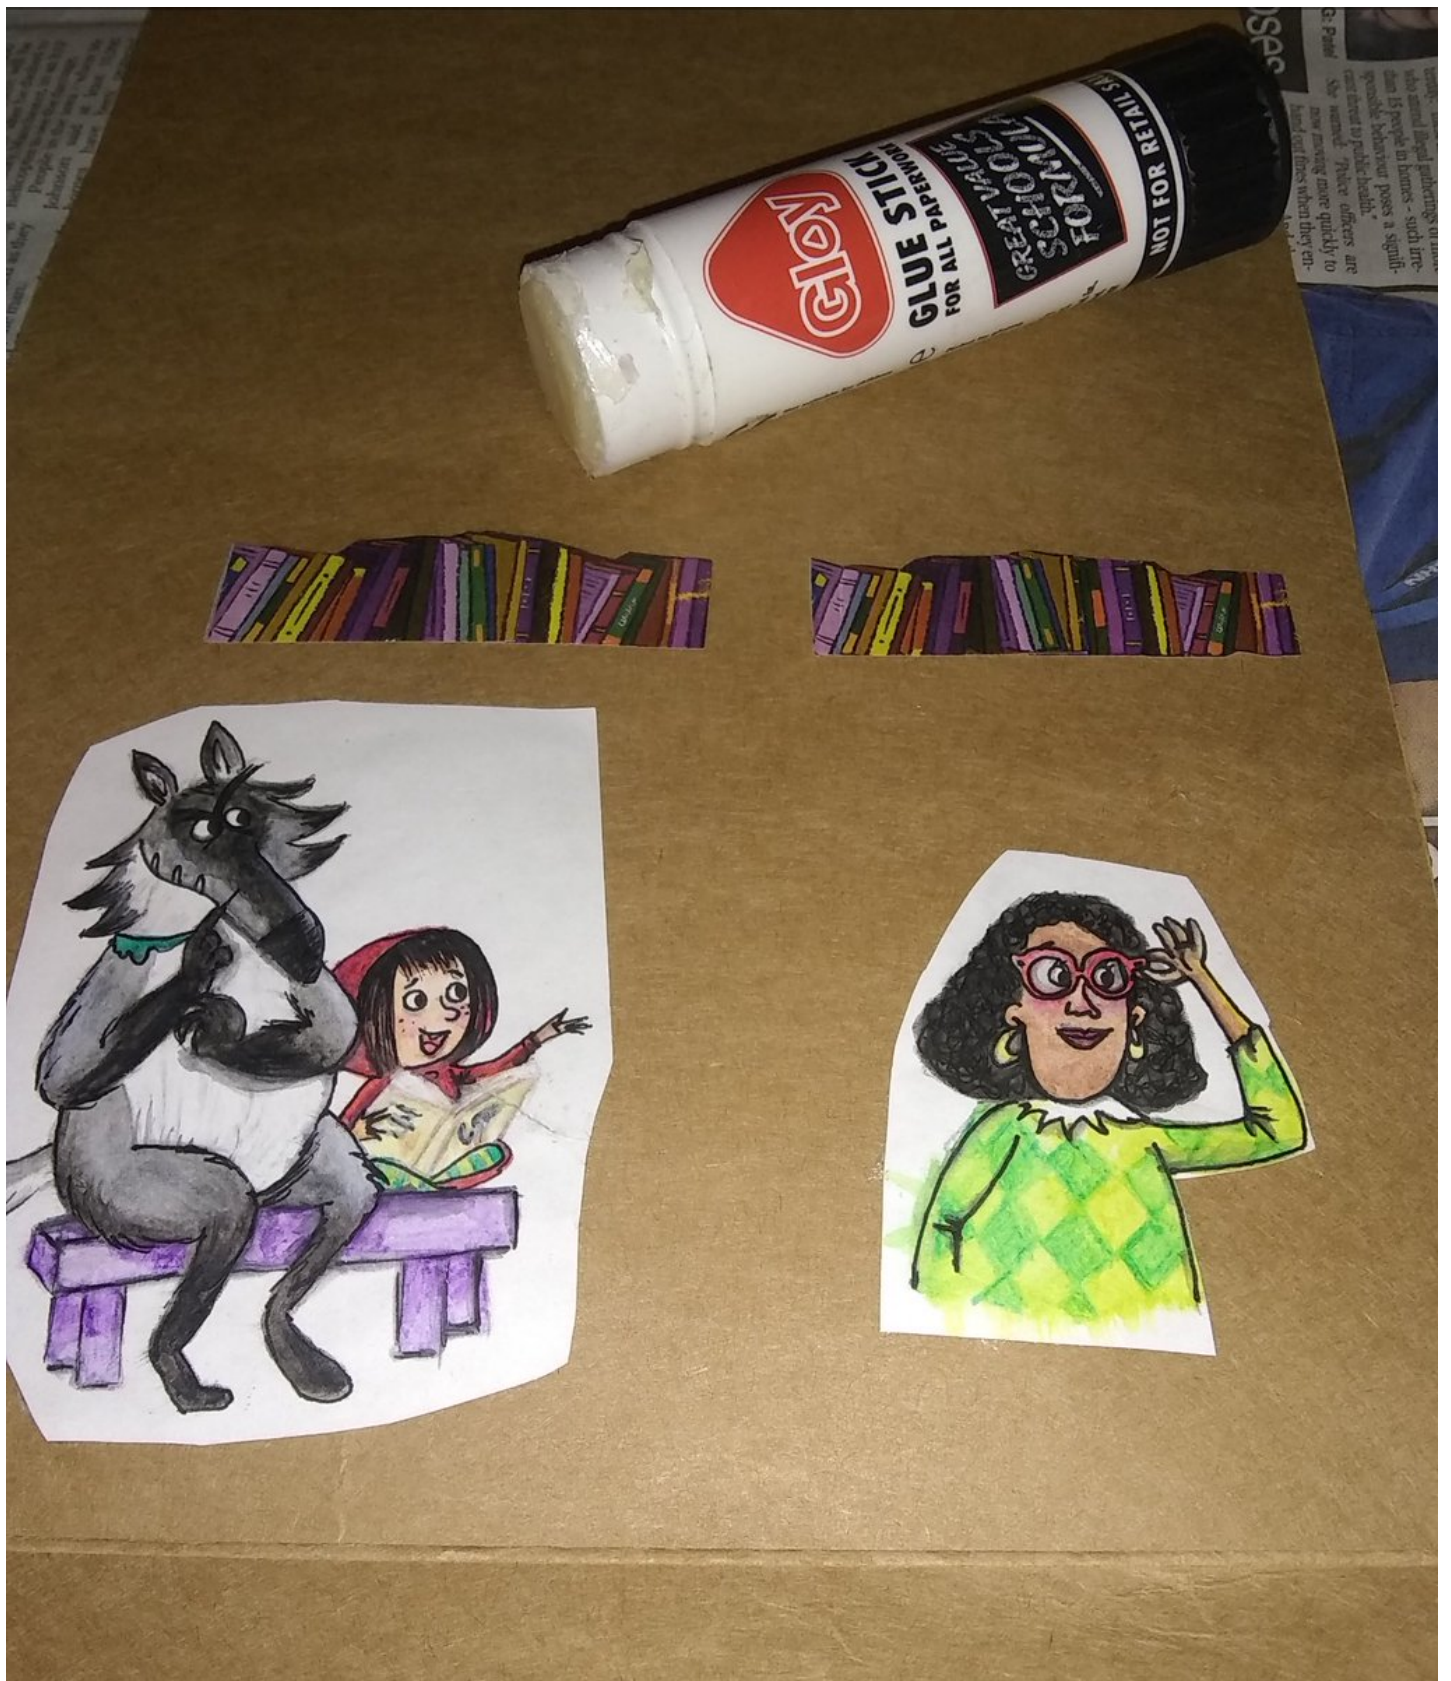

<https://t.co/xgTk78e76c>

<https://t.co/zFaucMnML1>

<https://t.co/yrd8Hn6mpl>

<https://t.co/zhk0lengOD>

<https://t.co/JdQwo2f69n>

<https://t.co/zBFRsytiPC>

Jab for duty

COVID-19 can cost lives as a NHS front line Beauty queen Dr Bhasha Mukherjee, 24, answered the call for

A FURTHER have 1,290 people died within positive day of testing of yesterday, Covid as the UK total to bring the 37,892 new cases, the government said.

Kate's agony

KATE Garraway has been feeling "physically low" since Christmas, as her husband, Peter, is still in the hospital.

Morning
most admitted that she is "physically at the end of (her) tether"
at times.

Earlier this week she suffered another blow when a friend's mother-in-law died from Covid-19 aged 51.

The 53-year-old added: "It's been a strange time. I've sort of had to regroup a bit."

u? As we sit have you?
Education
ou not done
our kids."
ew, Thicke
ed" schools Easter.

Laptops given to pupils by the Government for home schooling in Bradford, West Yorks, were riddled with malware from Russia, it has been revealed.

The Department for Education said it is investigating.

The Star Says: Page 6

The Star Says: Page 6

<https://t.co/hn69PXKKdi>

<https://t.co/De94AKHWVM>

