@tobydoyhowell

1/ Creating content on Twitter can be difficult. A thread on the stack of tools I use to make my life easier

2/ Thread writing

Chirr app

Price: Free

What I like: has a nice blank space for drafting and a good auto-numbering feature

What I don't: have to copy and paste tweets into Twitter after thread is drafted and can't add pics

<https://t.co/YlljnF5eNd>

The screenshot shows the Chirr App interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with options: Compose, Drafts, Schedule, Blitz, History, Analytics, Upgrade, Follow updates, Support & feedback, and the user profile @tobydoyhowell. Below the navigation bar, there's a toolbar with icons for Reply to a tweet, Disable numbering, Upload, Split, and Tips & tricks. The main area is a text input field where the user is drafting a thread. The text in the input field is: "My current stack of tools I use to create Twitter content", "[...]Threads", "Chirr app", "Price: Free", "What I like: has a nice blank space for drafting and a good auto-numbering feature", "What I don't: have to copy and paste tweets into Twitter after thread is drafted and can't add pics", and "https://getchirrapp.com/ [...]". At the bottom right, there are buttons for "Save draft", "Publish", "Schedule publish", and "Add to queue".

3/ Video editing

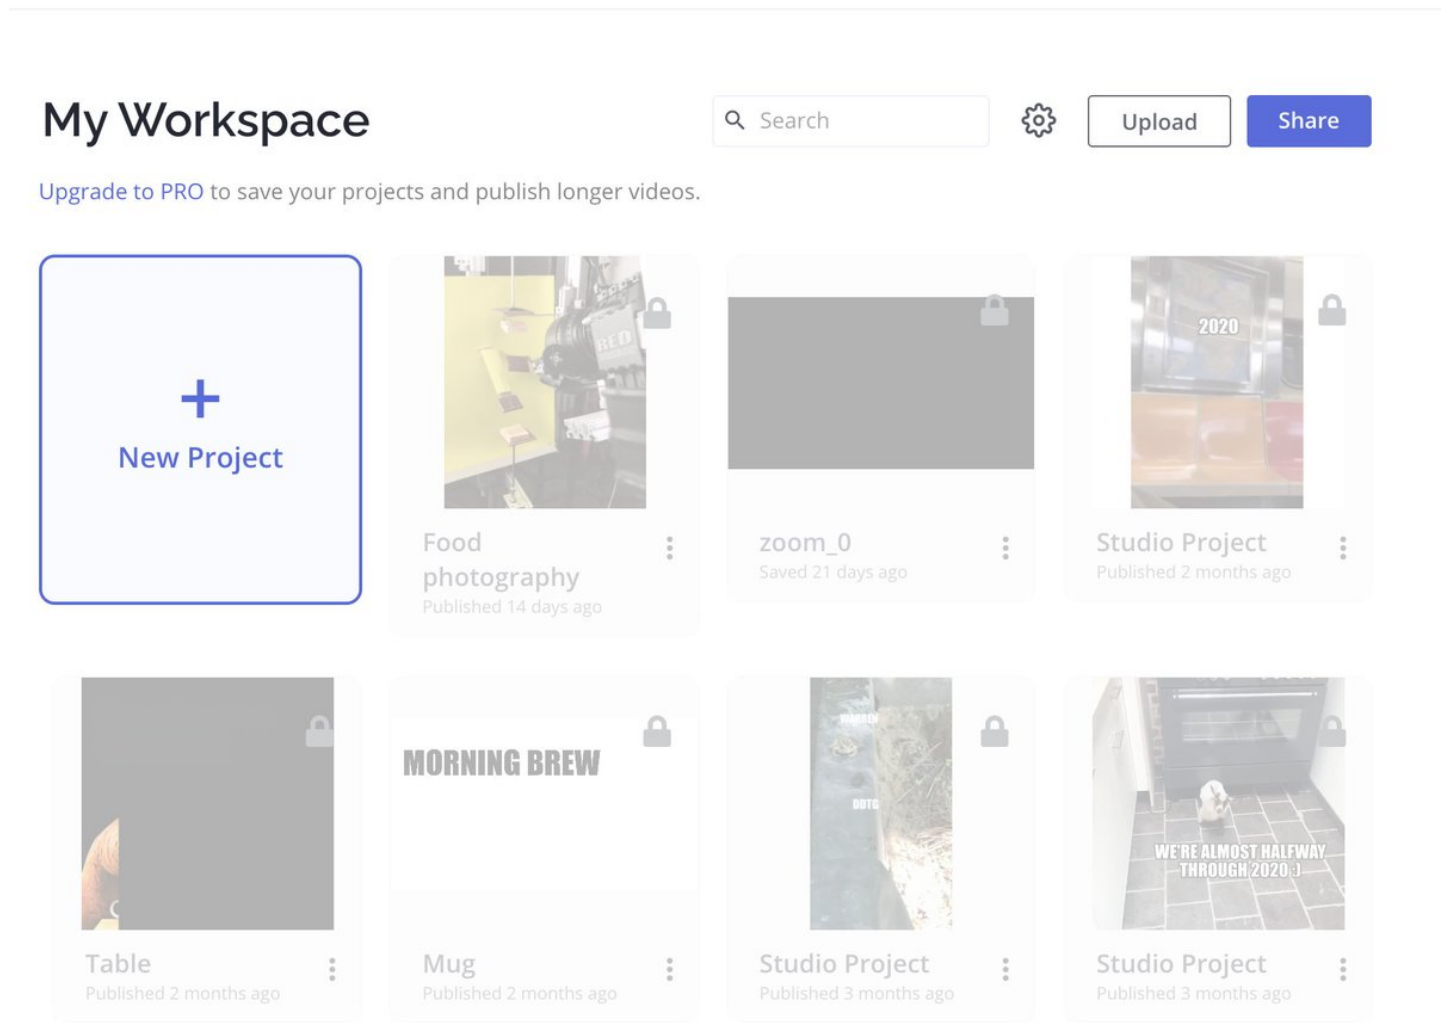

Kapwing

Price: Free

What I like: great at pulling vids from youtube/twitter and overlaying captions + different audio on them

What I don't: Can't edit content older than 2 days on the free plan

4/ Meme making

Imgflip

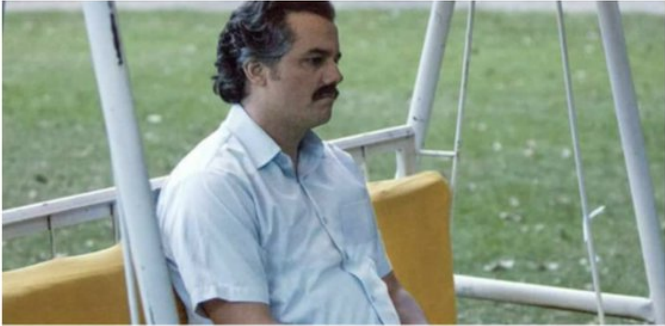

Price: Free

What I like: easiest way to caption existing meme formats, quickly

What I don't: limited fonts

<https://t.co/sUj13VIPiO>

↺ Spacing ↻ Add Image Draw

5/ Inspiration

iPhone notes app

Price: Free

What I like: no frills & easily accessible. every thread i write starts as an idea in notes

What I don't: difficult to organize

How to live tweet a debate

1/ Don't make the obvious jokes

Low hanging fruit was making fun of the individual candidates

In order to separate ourselves from the noise, and maintain the Brew's voice

we only made fun of the debate itself

Roam research

Price: $15/month

What I like: helps me flesh out ideas. works like my brain works

What I don't: no mobile app

<https://t.co/kPPdIsLFe8>

creative process thread

- A thread about the creative process
- we'll go through ideation, obsession, iteration
- and how to make the "secret sauce"
- to start, watch this video from a Hershy's chocolate ad [...]
- It undoubtedly has the secret sauce

7/ Higher lift visual content

Adobe Photoshop

Price: $10/month

What I like: been using since high school so very natural

What I don't: makes computer sound like 747 taking off

<https://t.co/cKt1CPcJx9>

8/ Tab overload

OneTab chrome extension

Price: Free

What I like: makes computer 10x faster

What I don't: sometimes it runs a little slow when its in the process of working its magic

Theo Parrish

October 16, 2020

Oct 16

Good morning.

It's Friday so we're listening to something more upbeat. Today we're listening to Theo Parrish, a dance music producer from Detroit. Parrish's music carries on the legacy of deep house pioneered by artists like Ron Trent and Frankie Knuckles. His latest album, Wuddaji, out a couple weeks ago, fits the jazz samples and progressions of deep house into broken beats and techo patterns. But first we're playing his 2014 album American Intelligence, which traverses the spectrum of dance genres over four-on-the-floor rhythms.

10/ Final thoughts on tools

-paid doesn't necessarily mean better

-find the RIGHT tool for the specific task you need to complete, not the buzziest

-constantly search for ways to make your life easier

What tools do you use?
