

Twitter Thread by Pete Savin

Pete Savin

@pete_savin

Wellcome to our virtual walk from Ambleside to Howtown on Lake Ullswater. I've based the route on #HadriansHighWay by @fellranger1 which he uses a variant to the main route. Books can be bought direct or through @VindolandaTrust

Twitter @pete_savin

A view of #Ambleside from Wansfell our starting point in the heart of the #LakeDistrict @CumbriaMagazine

TWITTER @PETE_SAVIN

We can start at the roman fort at the edge of #Windermere. The Romans started to push into the lakes in the early 90's AD, this fort dates to the rebuild in Hadrian's Reign possibly after warfare which brought about #HadriansWall #Ambleside

TWITTER @PETE_SAVIN

The #Ambleside posting wasn't always a peaceful one as the gravestone in the @ArmittMuseum shows one man was killed "in the fort"

Time to leave and head out of town passing this scale model of the famous Bridge House in #Ambleside #virtualwalk

Temptation straight way as we pass the Golden Rule, who remembers pubs? #Lakedistrict #VirtualWalk

We pass How Head the oldest part of visible #Ambleside with parts dating to the 16th cent and still lived in

St Anne's Chapel in #Ambleside a rebuild of the earlier Tudor church which stood in the site #lakedistrict

