Got Got Need

@Hudlen

Thought I'd put a thread together of some resources & people I consider really valuable & insightful for anyone considering or just starting out on their @SorareHQ journey. It's by no means comprehensive, this community is super helpful so no offence to anyone I've missed off...

1) Get yourself on the official Sorare Discord group <https://t.co/1CWeyglJhu>, the forum is always full of interesting debate. Got a question? Put it on the relevant thread & it's usually answered in minutes. This is also a great place to engage directly with the @SorareHQ team.

2) Bury your head in @HGLEitch's @SorareData & get to grips with all the collated information you have to hand FOR FREE! IMO it's vital for price-checking, scouting & S05 team building plus they are hosts to the forward thinking SO11 and SorareData Cups ■

3) Get on YouTube ■, subscribe to @Qu_Tang_Clan's channel <https://t.co/1ZxMsQR1kq> & engross yourself in hours of Sorare tutorials & videos. There's a good crowd that log in to the live Gameweek shows where you get to see Quinny scratching his head/ beard over team selection.

4) Make sure to follow & give a listen to the @Sorare_Podcast on the streaming service of your choice ■, weekly shows are always insightful with great guests. Worth listening to the old episodes too as there's loads of information you'll take from them. <https://t.co/fSVInMsLOl>

5) Follow these guys for all sorts of data & number crunching goodness inc league competitiveness & payout ratios ■:

- @SorareHub

- @SiegeTheDay23 (also knows his Asian football)

- @TheFootballEco

Can really help formulate your squad building for targeting particular divisions

6) Haven't got a big budget but want to get involved in Sorare and climb the ladder? I'd recommend you give the guys @sorareinfo a follow and sign up to their newsletter, they know how to find the best deals, pick up the bargains, buy low and sell high ■ ■

7) Handy for checking out the auction action whilst on Twitter & getting a feel for the market, the @SorareBot posts everytime an auction is won for more than $150 (it can be quite satisfying to see your name up there when you finally get the player you've been after a while...)

8) As sorare grows so too will the demand for league specialists to give you all the player & team news from abroad. We already have our man in Japan @SorareJapan offering all the inside knowledge, if you are going to tackle Champion Asia then giving him a follow is essential ■■

9) @SorareScout ■ have released their first feature which is a very handy season scheduler for all the leagues covered by the S05s. Can be difficult keeping track of all the fixture commencements especially with Covid so this is a welcome addition ■

10) Notable others:

@Football\_MDJ THE Sorare blogger, v helpful & balanced insights

@FiGenesis French football - he's definitely got it covered ■■

@javeerdesu Great Youtube intro vid (more content pls mate)

@sorarefraser Pressures on now to get the fridge magnets in production...
