We just met your profile and product.
It looks pretty useful.

There is a wider target audience that can use your product.

However, you have to reach out to them to increase your number of users.

For example, people using Readwise can use your product.

If you want, you can get a list of users who followed and interacted with Readwise.

With this list, you can show advertisements directly to these users on Twitter.

If you want to grow your audience, you can try it for free.
Feel free to give feedback.

Since your DM and mail channels are closed, we reach you by using your product.

If you want, it is okay to remove this content.

Good luck
