Sri Devi Karumariamman mandir, Chennai, Tamilnadu

Sri Devi Karumariamman mandir is in Thiruverkadu, a suburb of Chennai. It is said that God Muruga came here and obtained the 'Vel' (spear) from His mother, Goddess Karumari (an avatar of Parvathi) 1/n to fight the demon Suran and hence this place was called as 'Vel kadu' and became as Verkadu. As per legend Devi Karumariamman once disguised as a soothsayer visited Bhagwan Surya, the Sun God, to predict His future. 2/n

Not realising that the soothsayer is none other than Sakthi Matha, Surya ignored Her. Angered by his indifference, Devi Karumariamman immediately retreated. Bhagwan Surya lost His glory and the earth plunged into darkness. 3/n Bhagwan Surya then realised His folly and pleaded forgiveness from Devi Karumariamman. In order to pacify mother Karumariamman, Suryadev said that His rays would fall on Her directly twice in a year and touch her feet. (in the month of Panguni (March- April) & during (Sep - Oct)

Mother Karumari Amman is worshipped here in two forms. A swayambu (self manifested) with only head visible above the ground and another one in a graceful sitting posture with all Parasakthi features, with four arms holding skull, sword, trishul, udukkai (damru). 5/n

Origin of this mandir is said to around 1000 years old. At the entrance of the temple, is a sannithi for Bhagwan Ganesha, under a tree, on the left of the flag post. As we enter the mandir, we can see the Navagraha sannithi to the left &.. 6/n

Sannithi for Srinivasa Perumal on the right. This mandir has sannithis for Subramanya with Valli and Deivanai, Dakshinamoorthy, Mahalakshmi, Gayathri and Anjaneya. There is also a sannithi for Sage Agasthya. 7/n

There is also a small temple tank , called Vedatheertham, in front of the temple complex. The tank created by Lord Subramanya is called as Thiruchamber Poigai. Taking a dip in the holy tank is said to cure people of skin related disorders. 8/n

Gau puja (worship of cows) is performed everyday in the morning. Archana with Kumkum is performed daily between 4.30-6.00pm. On the new moon day every month, a yagna with red chillies is performed. 9/n

Brahmotsavam is celebrated for nineteen days during the month of Thai (January- February) and the deity is taken in a procession through the streets around the temple. The last three days, the Thepoutsavam (Tank festival) is celebrated.

Aadi festival in July- August is a major festival of the temple. On Sundays, Ksheerabhisheka (abishekam with milk) is performed with 108 pots of milk. In the evening, the deity is taken out in a procession. 11/n
