- Ecclesiastes 1:9

What can the past teach us about the future?

Let's find out

To begin, let's remember that they're called

"Revolutions"

Because they're cyclical, just as the planets revolve around the sun, so does human civilization transition between eras of freedom & oppression

When we talk about the "Endgame" we are also talking about a new BEGINNING

Our ancient ancestors from around the world tracked the passage of time by the transition of celestial objects through the sky

The Mayans had their calendar, and Plato taught us about the "Platonic Year" a roughly 25,772 year cycle also called the procession of the equinoxes

Great Year

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The term Great Year has two major meanings. It is defined by scientific astronomy as "The period of one complete cycle of the equinoxes around the ecliptic, or about 25,800 years". A more precise figure of 25,772 years is currently accepted.^[1] The position of the Earth's axis in the northern night sky currently almost aligns with the star Polaris, the North Star. This is a passing coincidence and has not been so in the past and will not be so again until a Great Year has passed.

The Platonic Year,^[2] which is also called the Great Year, has a different more ancient and mystical meaning. Plato hypothesized that winding the orbital motions of the Sun, Moon and naked eye planets forward or back in time would arrive at a point where they are in the same positions as they are today. He called this time period the Great Year and suggested that such a unified return would take place about every 36,000 years. There is no evidence that such a re-alignment has ever or ever will take place.^{[3][4]}

By extension, the term "Great Year" can be used for any concept of eternal return in the world's mythologies or philosophies. Historian Otto Neugebauer writes:

The difficulty with the term "great year" lies in its ambiguity. Almost any period can be found sometime or somewhere honored with this name.^[5]

The tilt of the Earth's polar axis remains constant but describes a circular path in space during a period known as The Great Year.

Out of this astronomy grew astrology, the practice of using the position of the largest celestial objects in the sky to determine what type of energy/events were to be expected.

While this may seem ridiculous, consider that the moon controls the tides and human menstrual cycle

Various cultures have broken down these energy cycles in different ways.

Month/Moon Cycle: Western Astrology

Year/Sun Cycle: Chinese Astrology

Procession of Equinox Cycle: Platonic Year

All of these cycles are described by numbers, leading to the unifying study of: Numerology

CAPRICORN (Goat)
December 22 - January 19

AQUARIUS (Water Bearer)
January 20 - February 18

PISCES (Fish)
February 19 - March 20

ARIES (Ram)
March 21 - April 19

TAURUS (Bull)
April 20 - May 20

GEMINI (Twins)
May 21 - June 20

CANCER (Crab)
June 21 - July 23

LEO (Lion)
July 24 - August 23

VIRGO (Maiden)
August 24 - September 23

LIBRA (Scales)
September 24 - October 23

SCORPIO (Scorpion)
October 24 - November 22

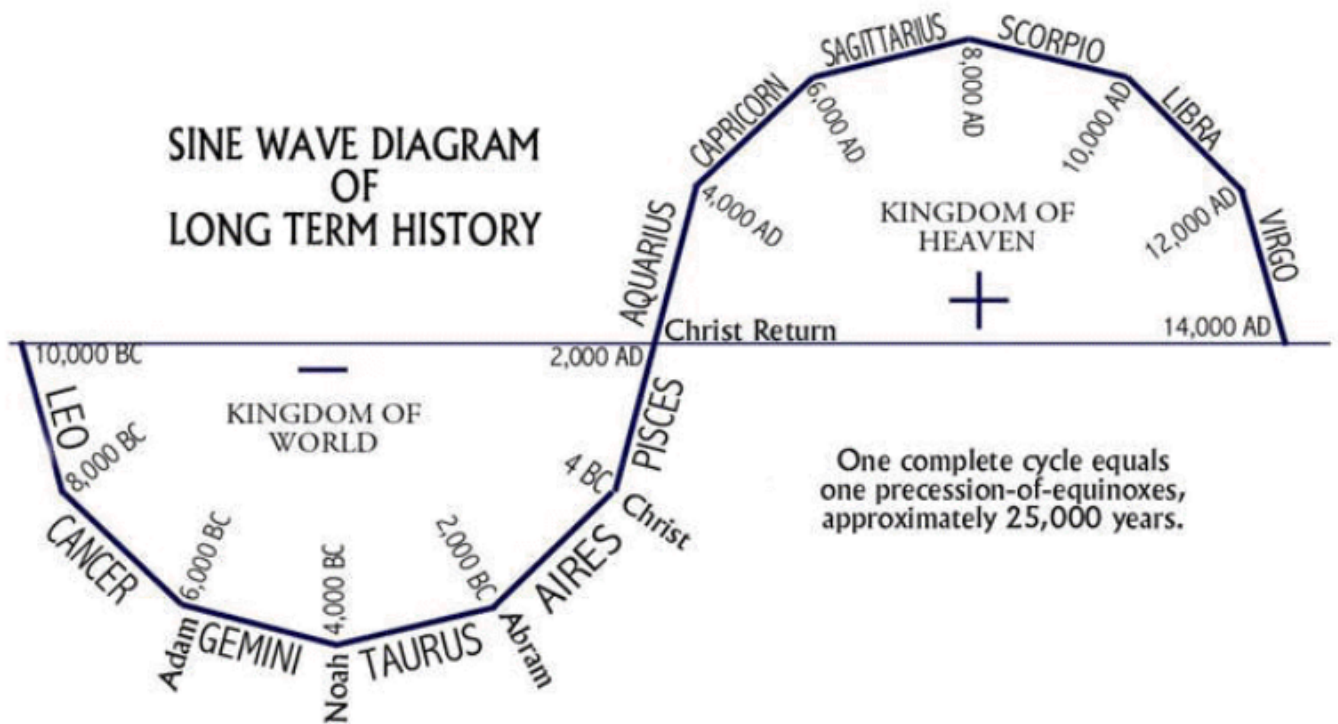

SAGITTARIUS (Centaur/Archer)
November 23 - December 21

So where are we now?

Is there anything that can explain the chaos & upheaval that is 2020?

Yes, quite a bit actually, let's start from the top down:

In terms of the (roughly) 2,100 year parts of the Platonic Year, we are transitioning from the Age of Pisces to that of Aquarius

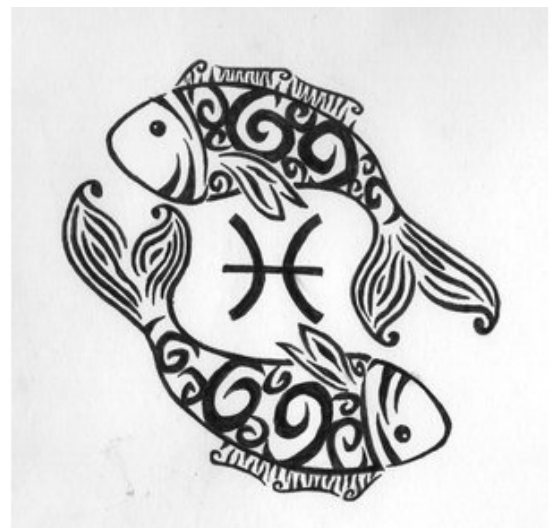

Pisces, represented by the Fish (the same used by Christianity, from whose birth which our current year count starts) now gives way to Aquarius, the water (or knowledge) bearer

In New Age circles it is referred to as the Age of Awakening, and the "Return of Christ Consciousness"
