Vedapureeswarar Temple is located in Tiruvallur near Chennai of Tamil Nadu. Paramashiva is worshipped as Vedapureeswarar and Parvati Devi as Balambigai. Temple is one among Paadal Petra Shiva Sthalam.

Sthala Puranam says that Agasthya Muni was unable to attend Shiva Parvathy Thirukalyanam, he prayed to Paramashiva here and expressed his wish to watch the marriage. Pleased by the devotion Paramshiva appeared here along with Parvathy Devi.

Agasthya Muni was blessed to have Paramashiva's darshan from various places and Thiruverkadu is one of them. Mahavishnu and Adishesha worshipped Paramashiva here. Adishesha promised that anyone worshipping here will not face Naga Dosham or any snake bite.

Thus the place is also called Vidam Theenda Pathy means place where no snake bite occurs. Shivaratri, Maha Pradosham is very famous here.

Om Namah Shivaye
