A man, walking along the Chennai beach, was deep in prayer. All of a sudden, he said out loud, "Lawd, grant me one wish."

The sunny Chennai sky clouded above his head and in a booming voice, and the Lawd Jeebus appeared before him and said

"Begause you have been faithful to me in all ways, begause you voted Duddy to power, begause you could able to tithe me regularly, begause of all these reasons, I will grant you one wish."

The man said, "Build a bridge to Port Blair so I can drive over anytime I want & preach the goospel there"

The Laawd said, "Your request is very materialistic. You are behaving like the materialistic Pagan & Heathen. Aren't you idolatrous in asking such a boon?"

The Laawd, mournfully, continued, "Think of the enormous challenges for that kind of undertaking. The supports required to reach the bottom of the Bay of the Rakshasi Land! The concrete and steel it would take over thousands of kilometers!

The Laawd droned on "I can do it, because all things are possibel to who could able to thank Jeebus, but it is hard for me to justify your desire for worldly things. Take a little more time and think of another wish, a wish you think would honour & glorify me."

The man thought about it for a long time. Finally he said, "Laawd, I wish that I could understand my wife. I want to know how she feels inside, what she is thinking when she gives the silent treatment, why she cries, what she means when they say "nothing!"

The man, with a serious tone, said "In addition, I also want to know how I can make a woman truly happy"

The Laawd replied in a flash, "You want two lanes or four lanes on that bridge!? Let me know"
