Twitter Thread by Architects for Social Housing

Architects for Social Housing
@9thfloor

'If some people don’t like the idea of getting the jab, tough. I wouldn’t force them. But maybe refuseniks should have to wear a bell round their necks and sport a sandwich board declaring themselves "Unclean".'
— Richard Littlejohn, Daily

'It’s only a matter of time before we turn on the unvaccinated. Rational people will ask why they should continue to accept restrictions on their freedoms because of ignorant delusions.'
— Nick Cohen, The Guardian
https://t.co/dSq1cnPDX9

'No jab, no access to NHS healthcare; no jab, no state education for your kids. No jab, no access to pubs, restaurants, theatres, cinemas, stadiums. No jab; no entry to the UK, and much else.'
— Sean O'Grady, The Independent
https://t.co/12ojNdTMAl

'We can’t let idiots who don’t want Covid vaccines hold us hostage. You are stupid. Weapons grade stupid. So I'm totally on the side of Lord (Andrew) Lloyd-Webber when he says refusing the jab is no better than drink-driving.'
— Sarah Vine, Daily Mail
https://t.co/TWBYDFCy9E

'I’d literally be in fights with these people (vaccine decliners). How do you keep seeing them at work without wanting to poison their coffee?'
— Shelagh Fogarty, LBC Radio
https://t.co/bk16BSNpH3

> Here\u2019s Shelagh Fogarty bullying people who are afraid.
>
> Suggesting she would \u201cpoison their coffee\u201d & tell them they were \u201coff their rockets\u201d simply because they exercise their right to choose.
>
> No tolerance & no compassion. Sounds a bit fascist to me. #COVID19 pic.twitter.com/AA5CrrD5fM
>
> — Bernie's Tweets (@BernieSpofforth) May 17, 2021