Twitter Thread by ClearingTheFog

ClearingTheFog
@clearing_fog

@ThomasS4217 @gal_suburban Igniting Florida is a lobbying firm that Fried started.

If she made $351K through that company, that she initially didn't report, then who was she lobbying on behalf of - who was paying her company?

> In July 2019, Fried reported that her only salary for the previous year was the money she earned as agriculture commissioner. Several months later — in January 2020 — Fried amended her disclosure to show that she had earned $72,000 from Igniting Florida.
>
> She changed it again last week to report that instead of zero — or $72,000 that she previously reported — she had earned $351,480 from Igniting Florida.