1. Learn Daily

Learning shouldn't stop when you graduate from school.

Learn 1 new thing daily.

Perfect your skills until you are an expert.

Never lose your childlike curiosity to learn.

2. Embrace Failure

Failure and success are not opposites. They are 2 parts of a whole.

Why failure is necessary:

- Knowledge

Failure simply is a stepping stone for success.

You are the average of the 5 people you surround yourself with.

To become a winner, you must first surround yourself with winners.

5. Create Multiple Streams of Income

If 1 income stream fails, the other income streams come to your rescue.

Diversify your income by building a side hustle today.
