

Twitter Thread by sriram ■■

sriram ■■
@SriramKannan77

The unified opposition, or the electoral unity of the opposition parties, is the strength of the BJP-led NDA alliance in any election.

The stronger the opposition's electoral unity in front of the BJP, the better. The NDA will receive more than 50% of the vote, which will give it both essential and sufficient political power..

To assure the BJP-triumph, NDA's the country's and states' current political opposition must remain unified in the electoral contest, to be united, and to come to the elections by establishing an alliance.

The long-term viability of India's democracy depends on the unity of the opposition.

There is a policy of not opposing Mamta in this plan so that she can work hard to unite the opposition while we consume cream.

Fighting a unified adversary is usually preferable.

That is why Shri Krishna left Jarasangh alive, so that he might gather all the opponents and save Shri Krishna from having to travel anyplace when he died.