

Twitter Thread by SWARNASHISH CHATTERJEE

SWARNASHISH CHATTERJEE

@SwarnashishC

“Accounting” for people with non-finance background.

Sharing these resources as received requests in DM & comments.

A small thread.

(1/9)

1. Go through “Fundamental Analysis” chapter in Zerodha Varsity.

It is not sufficient. But introductory stuff is explained very lucidly. Perfect content for absolute beginner

(2/9)

<https://t.co/xFjDeUKNxs>

2. A free course from Wharton university of Pennsylvania

(3/9)

<https://t.co/OwOjdXzOeP>

3. Read this book on “Financial accounting” by R Narayanaswamy

(4/9)

<https://t.co/3OpGbFSBsT>

4. These three are almost sufficient.

After that you should go through as many Annual reports as possible and do one exercise.

(5/9)

Just try to mentally assess cash flow statement after reading "Income statement" and "Balance sheet".

If the actual CFO differs drastically from your imagination, try to find the reason.

You will find a lot of dead bodies which are hidden in income statement.

(6/9)

5. Mentioning another two source from youtube.

1st one (7/9)

<https://t.co/FsxnPTs15R>

2nd one

(9/9)

<https://t.co/SvPNkToNX0>