There may be good deeds/conflicts/Wars but,we have to keep our mind stable and be in a state of eternal happiness without any prejudices & negativity

[illegible]

This verse teaches us to that if we want to attain moksha it is very necessary to stay away from the Negative people's, thoughts or behaviour. No matter how positive you are , they can effect your life, unless you take take the right step to keep yourself unaffected,because they love bringing others down .

-RV 1.36.8

And once our inner inclinations are strong and healthy, then our body and mind also become healthy, which means that now we are free every evils and vices.

And our mind is free from all the negativity, which enabled us to perform good deeds

And since , we have attained a pure mind which is capable of meeting Parmatma, We are more closer to attain Moksha!
