It's a perfect storm of emotional immaturity, arrested development, and the fetishization of "freedom" to the point where the right to ignorance....and the "freedom" to put others at risk..... is equated with "liberty".

Yes, in the context of the Right's fetishizing "freedom", "patriot shaming", collective narcissism, cult membership purity tests, emasculation, dopamine, confirmation bias, religion, gun control, etc. <https://t.co/xGdmoSVykZ>. I'll attach a few of the threads below: 1/ <https://t.co/elQVWBVHXx>

An addiction model may actually explain tribalism, confirmation bias, and even conspiracy theories/Qanon. Let's unpack it.

Several years ago I started observing the parallels between addiction and political tribalism as marriages/friendships/families imploded over politics. 1/ <https://t.co/jCNGeN42I2>

This is the game the GOP plays:

When adults/experts/leaders take action, the Right engages in sabotaging performative obstinance & demonize the actions as government overreach.

If the Right successfully sabotages the actions, the Right claims Biden failed & blame immigrants. 1/
