The best startup pitches aren't pitches.

They're conversations.

I've helped startups raise over $20 million.

Here are 13 things to include in a killer pitch deck:

1. Title Slide

Include your logo and a one-liner to describe your business.

Use this slide to do your personal introduction and connect the dots between your story and the company you are building.

Business Name

Short description of your business

2. Problem slide

Most investors won't be experts in your sector so use this slide to contextualize the problem.

Key things to cover:

- What is it
- Who has it
- Why does it matter

Remember make it super simple for them to understand.

3. Solution slide(s)

How are you going to solve the above problem you just stated?

Make the slide simple and effective.

4. Solution slide(s)

Make an impact by contrasting the situation if you did not exist

5. Why now

Timing in start-ups matters a lot.

Use this slide to showcase the unique insights you have about the market as well as why now is a great time to build the company.

Reasons can include:

- Technological change
- Regulatory change
- Current products suck and why

Market ripe for disruption

- Fragmented industry
- Low net promoter score (NPS)
- ...

6. Market opportunity

Showcase the TAM of your market and be realistic about what you can capture.

Use both bottom-up as well as external reports to validate your assumptions.

Canada

$50 mm

500 businesses
$100K/year

North America

$500 mm

5000 enterprises
$100K/year

7. Traction/Customer adoption slide(s)

If your product is in use then share your growth numbers.

Share customer testimonials.

Talk about the ROI you are generating for your customer.

$500K ARR with 6x QoQ pipeline growth

8. Team

You can't build a 10x company without 10x talent.

Show why you are the best team to go after this specific problem and space.

9. Business Model

How will you make money?

10. Competition

Always good to showcase who your competitors are or companies that can become competitors.

Use this slide as a way to showcase your awareness of the market as well as how you will differentiate.

11. Customer Case Study (B2B companies)

If you are an enterprise company and have a customer then definitely include a snapshot of the customer journey.

12. Milestone + Use of funds

What do you intend to do with this round and timelines ahead?

$2mm round to hit

- $1mm in ARR
- Hire 10 technical and biz folks
- ...

13. Vision

You can start with this slide.

I personally like ending with the big vision.

You want to showcase clearly and concisely how the company will become massive and why you will win.

Hope this thread helps you in creating an awesome deck.

Bonus:

- Checkout YC's resources on pitch decks
- Limit text on slides
- Have an appendix that contains questions investors typically ask
- Make sure your headlines tell a story
- Label graphs and screenshots etc

- Don't hype yourself let investors make the conclusion
