Twitter Thread by Riyanshi Mitra

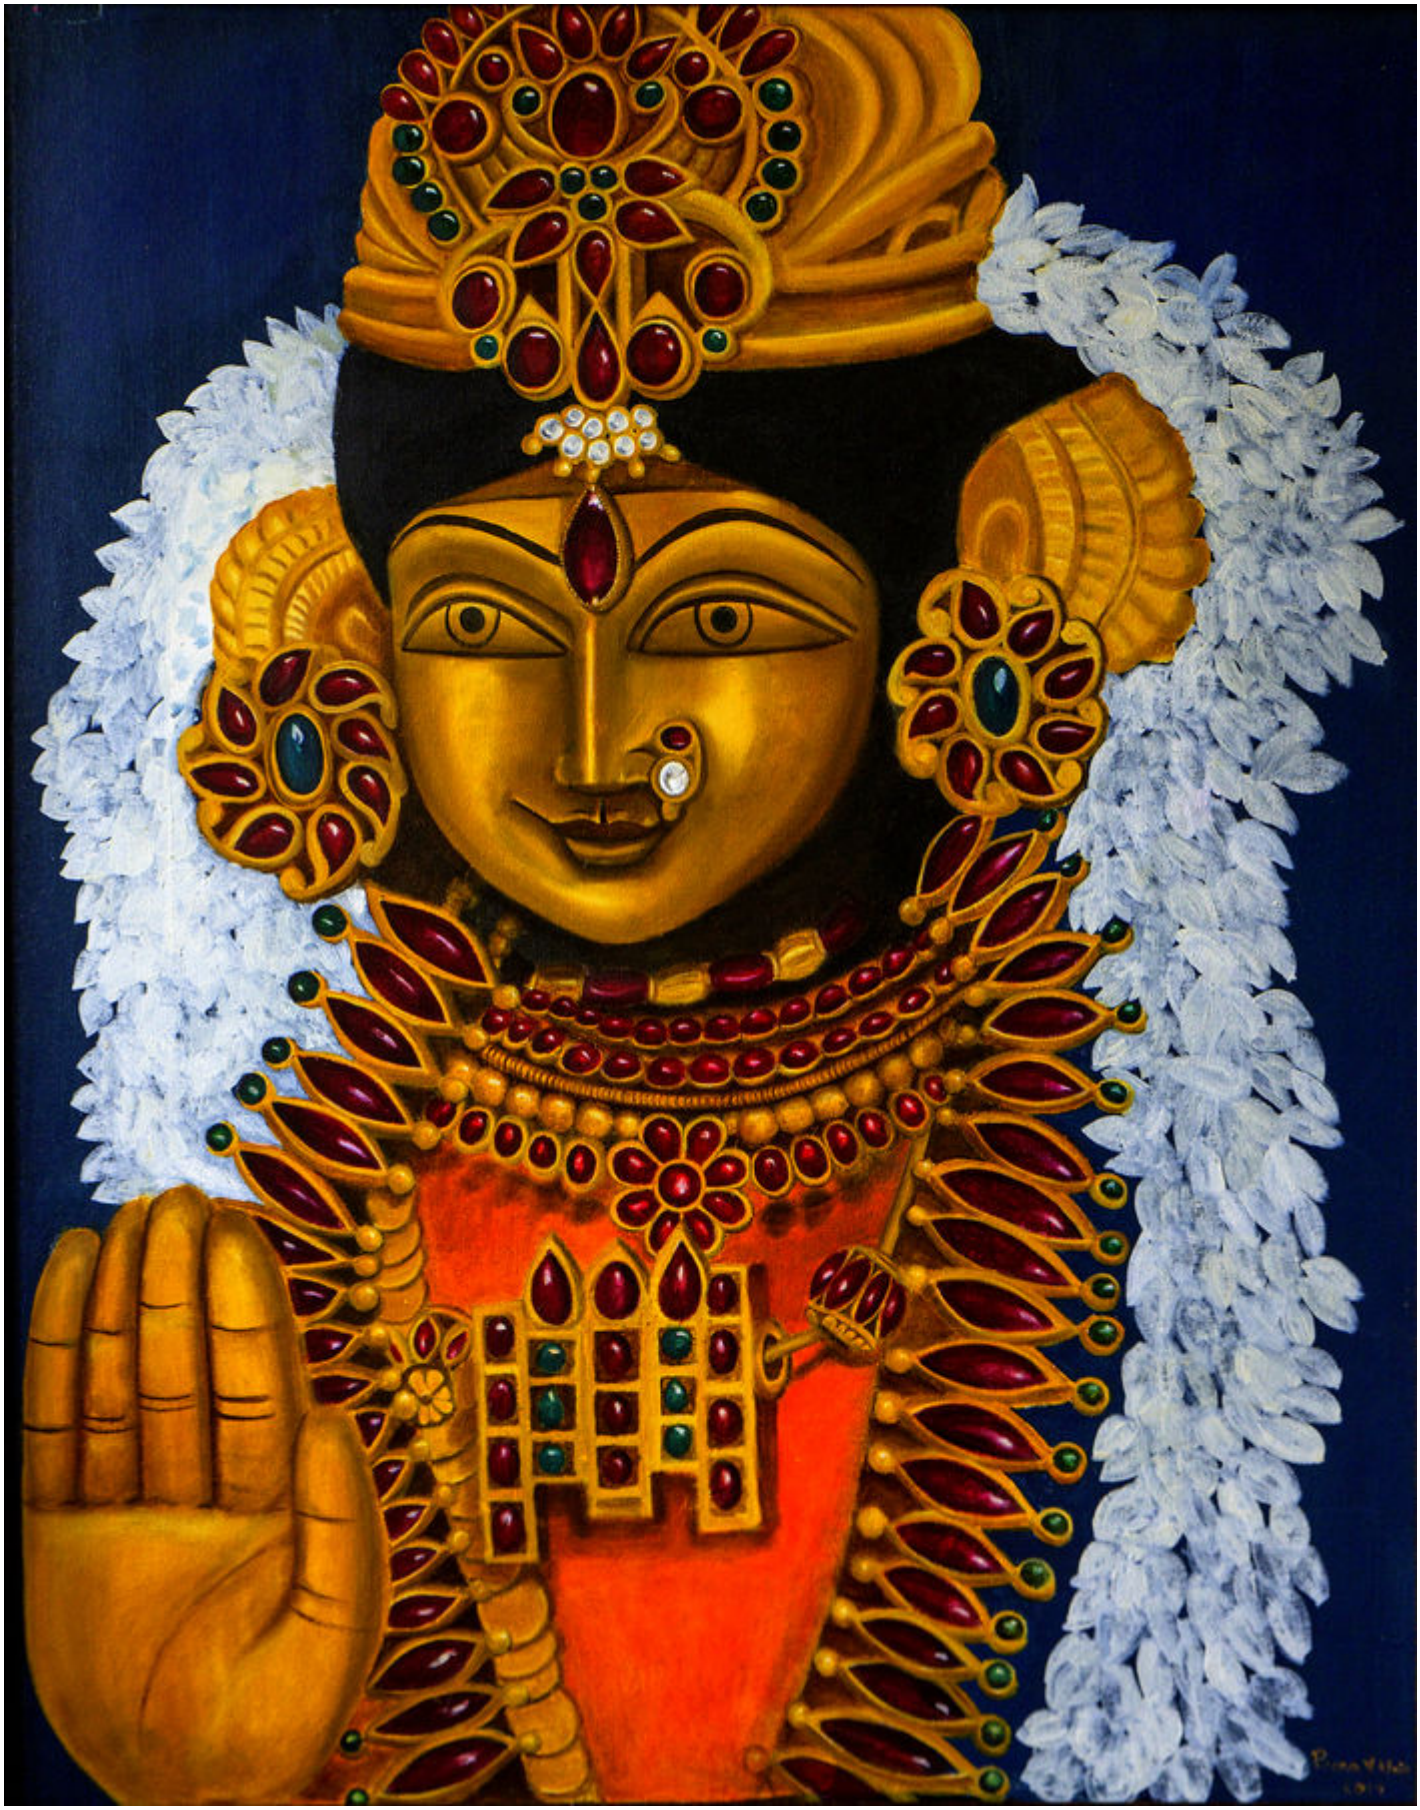

Riyanshi Mitra
@riya_sparkles

As per Shaktism, Adi Parashakti appeared as Divine Pure Eternal Consciousness i.e. Shoonya Bindu, the divine zero feminine energy, which then expresses itself as Prakriti (Universal Nature). Hence Adi Parashakti is Parama Prakriti. @LostTemple7 @IndiaTales7

Goddess Lalita Tripura Sundari, the goddess of power, is considered as her Saguna Svarupa (Manifested form) i.e. Lalita Tripura Sundari is the truest material form of the Goddess, possessing the three qualities (satva, rajas and tamas).

However, the Goddess Adi Parashakti is also considered to be the truly supreme spirit without form (Param Atman). She is the Great Goddess, and therefore the source of all other goddesses. She is supreme and regarded as the “Absolute Truth” in Shaktism.

