TWO THINGS YOU NEED TO PAY MORE ATTENTION TO

(Disclaimer: this is a subtweet. I am writing this entire thing to ONE person. But, it is also for you xx)

NUMBER ONE, YOUR INTUITION

Your subconscious mind has near infinite power and is calculating the product of billions of signals around you, and feeding you the answers via your gut.

(Literally! Your intuition will improve when your gut health does! Eat more KKM: Kimchi, Kombucha, Kefir!)

Personally, every single time I have ignored my intuition? I have ended up regretting it.

ALWAYS LISTEN TO YOUR INTUITION

Even if it feels stupid and irrational!

There have been cases where people are hiking and avoided specific roads due to an unexplainable feeling…

Later, news stories surfaced of people being murdered exactly the road they avoided!

If you knew how powerful your intuition really is? You'd never dare ignore it ever again.

NUMBER TWO, THE ACT OF ASKING QUESTIONS TELLS YOU THE ANSWER

Whenever you ask a yes or no question, the fact that you have to ask tells you everything you need to know.

Do you have to ask
"Should I do [thing that is CLEARLY good for you]?"

No, never.

Often people dm me,

“Rubi, should I stop smoking weed?”

The fact that you have to ask means it is a CLEAR yes.

If it made you richer, happier, and added 3” on your dick … you wouldn’t be sitting there questioning it.

Indecision (aside from lack of knowledge) comes from hesitancy, comes from you knowing deep down the correct answer.

Good moves are very easy to spot and take no deliberation.

If it’s not a HELL YES, don’t do it.

THIRD THING, SYNCHRONICITY

There really is no such thing as coincidence, only patterns that you have yet to identify.

God/Source Energy/The Universe will rarely talk to you with audible dialogue.

He communicates with you via signs and wonders and strange “coincidences” of sheer impossible luck.

Me and my best friend have a saying we repeat often,

Once is happenstance
Twice is coincidence
Three times is a sign you really need to fucking pay attention to and will pay dearly for ignoring

Stop dismissing the patterns you see.

Sometimes they are just insignificant randomness. But sometimes they provide key insight into the path that you should be following.

IN SUMMARY:

1. IF YOU HAVE TO ASK…. (Good moves are easy to see)

2. What is your intuition telling you?

3. Pay attention to the “random” things, themes, patterns and motifs that keep showing themselves over and over to you

You are far more powerful than any of you realise.

If u enjoyed thread clickt his one eblow and RT or don’t idc really if it’s in ur briana and ur gknna act on it that’s all I really care about https://t.co/pGB4sBqA9l
