Ever wanted to print some web pages from a website but ends up getting junk versions of pages loaded with advertisements in the print preview menu?

Well, this amazing website will solve this issue with ease.

The screenshot shows the homepage of printfriendly.com. The header includes the logo "printfriendly" with the tagline "Save Money & the Environment" and navigation links for "Extensions", "Publisher Plugin", "API", and "My Account". The main content area features a large heading "Make any web page Print Friendly & PDF" and a form with a text input field containing "Copy & Paste a URL and Click Preview" and a "Preview" button. Below the form, it says "Try it: Recipes, Wikipedia, News". To the right is a cartoon illustration of two trees. Below this is a section titled "Get The Browser Extension" with three columns: "Faster" (Use direct on any webpage), "Better" (Use direct on any webpage), and "Easier" (No copy and paste). The bottom of the image shows a Windows taskbar with various application icons and system tray information including "90°F Mostly sunny" and "4:20 PM 8/2/2022".
