develop a fictional continuation of this plot

After the defeat of Lord Voldemort, Harry, Ron, and Hermione return to their normal lives. Harry marries Ginny Weasley and becomes an Auror, a member of the wizarding law enforcement agency that fights against dark magic. Ron and Hermione also get married and become successful business owners, opening up a chain of food stores called "Weasley and Granger's Wizarding Treats."

Years later, Harry and Ginny's youngest child, Lily Potter, discovers that she has magical abilities and is accepted into Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry. At Hogwarts, Lily meets a group of friends and becomes a member of the Gryffindor house, just like her father before her.

As Lily navigates the challenges of being a student at Hogwarts, she begins to uncover a sinister plot that threatens the wizarding world. Lily, with the help of her friends and her parents, sets out to stop the dark wizard and save the wizarding world once again.

My advice: don't force yourself to come up with the next big startup idea.

Instead, keep your eyes and mind open to the problems and frustrations you encounter in your daily life.

These are the seeds of potential startups, waiting to be nurtured.

By solving problems that you personally experience, you increase the chances of creating a product that truly helps others.
