A thread where I give answers to each of the points raised in the document, feel free to use:

@CommPTU 1. Ppl are selfish

1.1

1, we should always ask ourselves "Is that true?" and demand evidence. It turns out the claim is unsubstantiated. Humans firstly are social animals. We aren't spiders and live alone and leave our children to fend off for themselves. We must work communally

@CommPTU 2, most higher order animals are social creatures and work collectively to benefit their groups (e.g. Ravens).

Even groups of trees detect which tree among them is in need of nutrients and work together to sustain each other. All individuals benefit from social support
