The Kavanaugh confirmation battle exposed to American public what Republicans have long known: The radical Left controls the Democratic party. And unless a Democratic incarnation of Susan Collins steps forward soon, the death-knell will sound the party's impending demise. 1/

2/ Blue-collar workers have already abandoned the party; pro-choice women bought the overturning-Roe-will-criminalize abortion lie; pro-life Dems pretended social justice issues overset killing of innocent human beings; and moderates were willing to tolerate the socialist
