1. The Trump/Alfa Bank server connection during the campaign wasn't random.
 2. Trump and the GOP just appointed Brian Benczkowski, a lawyer who worked for Alfa Bank, to lead the DOJ's criminal division, and he refuses to recuse himself.
- What the hell is going on here?

Dexter Filkins does a meticulous job revisiting the Trump/Alfa Bank server connection--and lands at about the same conclusion I did a few years back: This wasn't random. <https://t.co/YTy6HJyO4d>
