The Progressive censors who think they are tilting the ongoing culture war in their favor by censoring Conservative customers on Twitter & Facebook are in for a huge surprise. Not only can they not stop what's coming, their censorship is going to backfire on them massively.

Not only has the illegal censorship Twitter/FB engages in gotten Trump & Sessions' attention, there's going to be well publicized cases like this one:

The tech nerds can't win. When they get caught engaging in POLITICALLY MOTIVATED CENSORSHIP - and they're going to, bet on it - they are going to be subject to massive lawsuits and these companies will lose millions.

Shareholders will then clean house, force changes.

Oh look. somebody has an opinon on this:

"Facebook lets about 3 percent of your followers see your posts. If you buy ads, that numbers goes up to about 25 percent maximum.

The best way to screw Zuckerberg is to ensure a red mega-mega-mega-MAGA-tsunami in November."
