Many of you would have been wondering why I am moving away from social media over the weekend. There is very important and conscious reason behind this. Social media is one of best way to communicate & air our views. We choose to ignore and block people we don't want to listen.

We tend to resonate and chat with community who resonate with your thoughts.
Have you ever wondered what is happening behind the scenes. Have you ever thought how do these algorithms work behind you and make you glued to their platform.

How do they lure and entice you to do what they want.
These platforms might be free but what they take from you and sell is very precious.
Social media is another kind of addiction where people crave for Like Retweets in twitter or views.

In the whole process you psychologically start having a make belief life in this virtual world. We need to get away from these gadgets and have a break where you can spend quality time with family. This can be a debate or even fight or quarrel because we are losing ourselves in this SM world. Social media is a dinasaur which makes us completely dumb. This is a great place where we will learn but at times we need to unlearn to learn new. Don't SMOpioid or social addict. Specially push your family to stay away from gadgets at least 3 to 4 hours a day.

Try this & let me know.
Specially don't go near facebook because it is combination of HIV + Carona + plague. These guys use artificial intelligence to track ur behavior and make you vulnerable. Don't ask me how.
Also a word of caution even your television is driven by internet.

I am a DataScience guy and I know it is possible to bias opinions with data science. Thanks and have a great week ahead.

Just respond to this tweet how many of you have added content just to increase followers or have more likes. If you did then you have become a sociapath

Time for you to take a break and regular breaks from these social media platform and go to a place where you see more nature. Let go of your devices.
What made Trump win also made him lose. These guys are slowly engulfing and taking over the world. Sorry about mass tagging

It is with good purpose and intention hope everyone will realize what mistake we do thanks in advance. @mgnayak5 @MKG_II_0 @JumbuTweeple @KumarSarangapa1 @Kishoreciyer1 @RajeAiyer @almightykarthik @OKarthik82 @harshasherni @KumarSarangapa1 @Maha_periyava_ and others please RT

Please feel free to Opine as well folks . Am open for debate and views on this. Am not paranoid but am concerned
