Twitter Thread by intuitivegarlicbread ~

intuitivegarlicbread ~
@astrologybyj

LIBRA RISING ~

Referencing "The only astrology book you'll ever need"

As a Libra rising you have a natural charm, grace & poise. You are extremely social justice oriented, and take pleasure in connecting with people in a neutral atmosphere. Parties, holidays, laughter, fun and the good times are what Libra Ascendants revel in. You have a joyous and genuine personality, filled with hope for the future. Libra risings are always fantasizing about a happy tomorrow, and look very forward to living them out. Of course, you're not this way all the time. One of your biggest downfalls as a libra rising is being thrown into depression or despair by downhearted and discouraging people. Libra is the sign of BALANCE, but it does not take much to push a libra ascendant off balance. However your spirit is, optimistic, or negative - is what you will take on through your personality during that time.

As a Libra rising you are born with a great sense of fairness, and nothing angers you more than seeing injustice go uncorrected. You are often deeply upset by cruelty, violence, bloodshed, and strife. To life you must be serene and content, but above all fair.

Libra risings are refined, neat, and discriminating. You breathe a heavier air, rarefied. You aloof quality is sometimes hard for others to figure out. You gravitate towards artistic & creative endeavors, but sometimes your artistic flair lies dormant and unused., for you dont really like hard work, and prefer to take the easy way out often. You don't have to seek the spotlight as a Libra rising, the spotlight finds you. You never struggle to find success, and luck often comes to you through a partner or close association.

You love travel, new people & projects, and you happily throw yourself into enterprises that promise excitement or diversion. The trouble is that you dont have much perseverance, leaving many things unfinished. You also have difficulty making up your mind. you always weigh decisions carefully, switching, comparing and contrasting one solution or compromise to another. And when you've finally decided, you still tend to hesitate. There is a timid way about you behind this all, a fear of taking risks. You are happiest when married

This doesn't mean you will stay married though. Somewhere along the lines Libra rising is known for gaining wealth & material gain through a romantic partner. As a rule, you dont have a lot of children, but you take delight in the ones you do have in your life.

As a Libra rising, you tend to have a very good looking face. Graceful, & symmetrical bone structure, with a radiant smile. You are usually curvy, or rounder than average - not fat. Venus rules Libra, bringing you beauty, charm, social graces, and a appreciation for art

@UnrollHelper unroll pls