Below are some of the most interesting business stories I came across in 2020.

P. S The list is not exhaustive.

1) PSG unbundled it's 28.1% ownership of Capitec.

2) MTN sold a minority stake in Jumia Technologies for R2.3-billion.

3) Dischem has completed the acquisition of Medicare Health for R282million

4) TFG bought 381 Jet stores from Edcon for R480m.

5) Capitec entered into a partnership with SA Home Loans to offer home loans.

6) Food Lover's Market has started closing outlets in Zambia.

7) Sasol sold 50% of the "base chemicals division" at Lake Charles which equates to ~25% of total Lake Charles project. Sasol will still retain around ~75% of the total Lake Charles Chemical Project.

8) Sasol agreed to sell its 50% stake in Gemini for R6.2bn.

9) Tongaat Hulett sold its starch and glucose business to Barloworld for R5.26bn. The group has used R4.64bn of this to pay down debt.

10) The Competition Commission approved Nimble Fund 1's intention to acquire Edcon Book Debts.

11) Greg Maloka has decided to resign from Kaya.

12) Ethos Private Equity has won a contract with Ninety One to take on an advisory contract for Ninety One's Africa Private Equity funds.

Ninety One will maintain control and oversight of the portfolio, while Ethos will manage the assets

13) Bidvest Wits sold to TTM

14) Investec has taken the decision to wind down its remaining activities in Australia to refocus and simplify its business

15) Former owners of Mpumalanga Black Aces Mario Morfou and his brother George have purchased the Carousel casino licence from Sun International.

16) Telkom CEO Sipho Maseko sold R6.3m worth of Telkom shares and Tsholofelo Molefe who was CFO then also offloaded R2.8m worth of shares in Telkom.

Tsholofelo Molefe has been appointed as CFO of MTN

17) Famous Brands sold their controlling stake in Tashas back to its founders

18) The Competition Tribunal approved PepsiCo's acquisition (merger) of Pioneer Foods for an estimated R28 billion.

19) Growthpoint Properties has managed to raise R4.3bn in new capital through an oversubscribed placement.

The capital raised will go towards reducing leverage.

20) Pepkor will be selling fashion retailer John Craig plans to focus on growing its middle-income brands, such as Refinery.

Pepkor has also sold the Building Company which houses brands such as Timbercity and Cachet to Cashbuild for R1.1bn.

21) Studio88 looks set to buy John Craig from Pepkor.

This will be a different ball game for Studio88 as their focus has always been focused on footwear through Studio88, Side Step and Skipper Bar.

John Craig focuses on formal clothing for men.

22) Remgro is willing to spend as much as R805m to raise its stake from 76.6% - 83% in consumer foods maker RCL Foods (supplier of chicken to KFC, Nando's and Chicken Licken).
