This is a thread on Republican messaging. The press doesn't want to have a direct conversation with you about this. So as a former Republican who is now a consistent Democratic voter, I will. Thread.

Here is the Republican message on everything of importance:

1. They can tell people what to do.
2. You cannot tell them what to do.

This often gets mistaken for hypocrisy, there's an additional layer of complexity to this (later in the thread), but this is the basic formula.
