Twitter Thread by President-Elect CivilDrivel

President-Elect CivilDrivel
@DrivelCivil

I'm going to make a stand. I'm not now nor ever going to advocate for civil war, no matter what.

United America is unstoppable, Divided we all fall.

War benefits China and Iran.

Our mission us to evangelize the truth and put fires of misguided hate out.

We are in the midst of a very real color revolution.

It's an impressive, dastardly tactic to overtake a country.

Win by cheating, provoke the cheated to revolt, fight, false flag a horrible war crime, they cede power in humility.

Those assholes actually thought this 3rd world/eastern euro plan would work in the land of the free?

Yes. And we're in real danger. Do not underestimate the depravity of these evil game theorists.

To defeat it we must study its brilliance so we know where its strong or weak.

The past 4+ years we've been watching a rapid re-education program on the left.

We've been annoyed and disgusted by it, but otherwise immune.

But that's actually part of the objective.

We've been divided into Constitutionslists vs Numericans.

To us the year is 1776

To them, it's year zero.

We want to preserve and actualize the original American dream.

They want to literally forget it ever happened and have a Great Reset

We want life, liberty, and the persuit if happiness.

They want compliance, correctness, control.

The genius is they somehow think they're the true ideal American. A clever trick. That we are conserving a path that only was possible because it was propped up by racism, srxism, xenophobia. They are progressing to a united utopia.

They don't realize they have it backwards.

The liberation of gender roles came through inventions like washing machines, fridges and vacuums.

Of slaves through steam powered farming and early automation.

Of xeno through aircraft and international trade.

Capitalism.

We lived in their Utopia once. We have a cute name for it. The Dark Ages. We serfs would be provided a living wage but were the property of the state/Lords. Universal basic income is just a high tech analog.

Marx theory of history is that we are progressing to paradise, Capitalism has to end to usher in a world of peace and equality.

Sounds nice, but that's actually just a high tech promise of heaven for obedient state worshippers.

It's a sick perversion of truth.

I'm waxing this because I want you to get into their mind and relate to why they're so passionate about their cause. Theyre zealots for a technocratic religion and we stand in the way of paradise.

They're going to try to light the fuse soon. There won't be time to take them to Starbucks and philosophize over economic efficiency and incentives.

At this moment, right now, they think they won. They think they have the keys to heaven. Trump is gone, nothing is in their way.

Theyve been brainwashed to react to this. Why did they choose a cadaver to run against the most eccentric, popular, exciting President in history?

They wanted to steal. They didn't care if they got caught. They WANT us to fight. That's the end game. We MUST NOT GIVE THEM THAT.

(incedently, if Trump conceded and they somehow got away with the steal, all the better then they win and don't need the revolution aspect yet.. Hence the brilliance of this evil plan)

If the Devil knows one thing (whether the devil is real or not) it knows Human Nature. Our ego, passion, Honor is unfortunately too easy to steer.

We must think logically. Think for ourselves.

The MSM is literally their hive mind and will be dog whistling their orders.

I'm honestly not a very religious person. Who knows, I might be after all this. But I've been thinking a lot of what our friend said, many many times...

GOD WINS

Could it be that simple? That idealistic? That cheesy?

Turn the other cheek? Love thy enemy? Is the Gospel actually the blue print to defeat this sinister plot?

I mean, when does Jesus ever say "Don't do anything, I got this, go get some popcorn while I dragon ball Z his ass"

We don't have a choice though. It's the only option.

I'm not saying roll over and let BLM and ANTIFA roll over you, burn your home, murder your children.

DEFEND

But don't attack (unless absolutely necessary)

But at all times regardless if on offense or defense NEVER forget that these are your neighbours. Your FELLOW AMERICANS.

They aren't Numericans they just were led astray through selective facts. They're under a spell. Possessed if you will.

Know that they won't give you that courtesy. In their current state they will just want you destroyed. But this is their weakness.

They want to change your mind through physical submission.

We want to change their mind through love and reason.

Yeah we got 1000x more guns than them and know how to use them.

But be warned. Look at Kyle Rittenhouse. Imagine that 1000x. Thus us what I mean by they will do a FF that shames us into submission, or forces authorities to shut down our "hate groups"

Again, not saying to put down our guns. Defend yourself and your family. I'm just saying work on your diplomatic aim as well.

Are we not defeating our enemies by making them our friends?

It's the same as my attitude towards the Chinese. I feel bad for them. All the potential creativity and artistry of the nation locked away and centrally controlled by an autocratic regime. I don't hate the Chinese, I hate the CCP.

So ironically, I'm going to agree with Biden

Antifa is just an idea. A bad idea. A house of cards. A pile of lies. With a real human, a real American underneath that actually needs your help.

So I implore you all, keep focused on the real enemy. The minions have to be contained safely, but don't rage against them. Forgive them, they know not what they do.

Focus HARD on the CCP and IRAN and the enemies of freedom. The philosophies and persuasions of control.

We will win easily but we need to not be suckered into a quagmire.

Trump has planned this out. He's put counter terrorism experts at the helm of the US MIL just recently. We need to stay smart, and keep pushing the truth to the victims of the media.