Twitter Thread by Julia Saxena ■■

Julia Saxena ■■
@julia_saxena

■ Announcing Course Creator Lab ■

Over the last 1.5 years, I've worked with dozens of course creators to launch, run, and scale their courses.

What I learned went directly into over 135 atomic essays, templates, & checklists.

Now, you can find all resources in one place ■

Course Creator Lab is full of free resources to help you launch ■, run ■, and scale ■ your online course.

Check it out here and bookmark it:

https://t.co/oMBxdNYg8A

Course Creator Lab is entirely built in @NotionHQ.

I used @potion_so to turn it into a website which was surprisingly easy and straightforward.

All in all, it took only a few hours across one week to put everything together.

Course Creator Lab is about 80% of where I want it to be, but I'm launching it anyway because I know I could tinker with it forever and never feel satisfied.

I already have a big list of improvements and new content I want to create and add.

Soooo, what do you think of Course Creator Lab?

Would love to hear your first impression and any suggestions.

And I'd be massively grateful for a like and RT if you think your audience would benefit from it, too.