March, 2019:

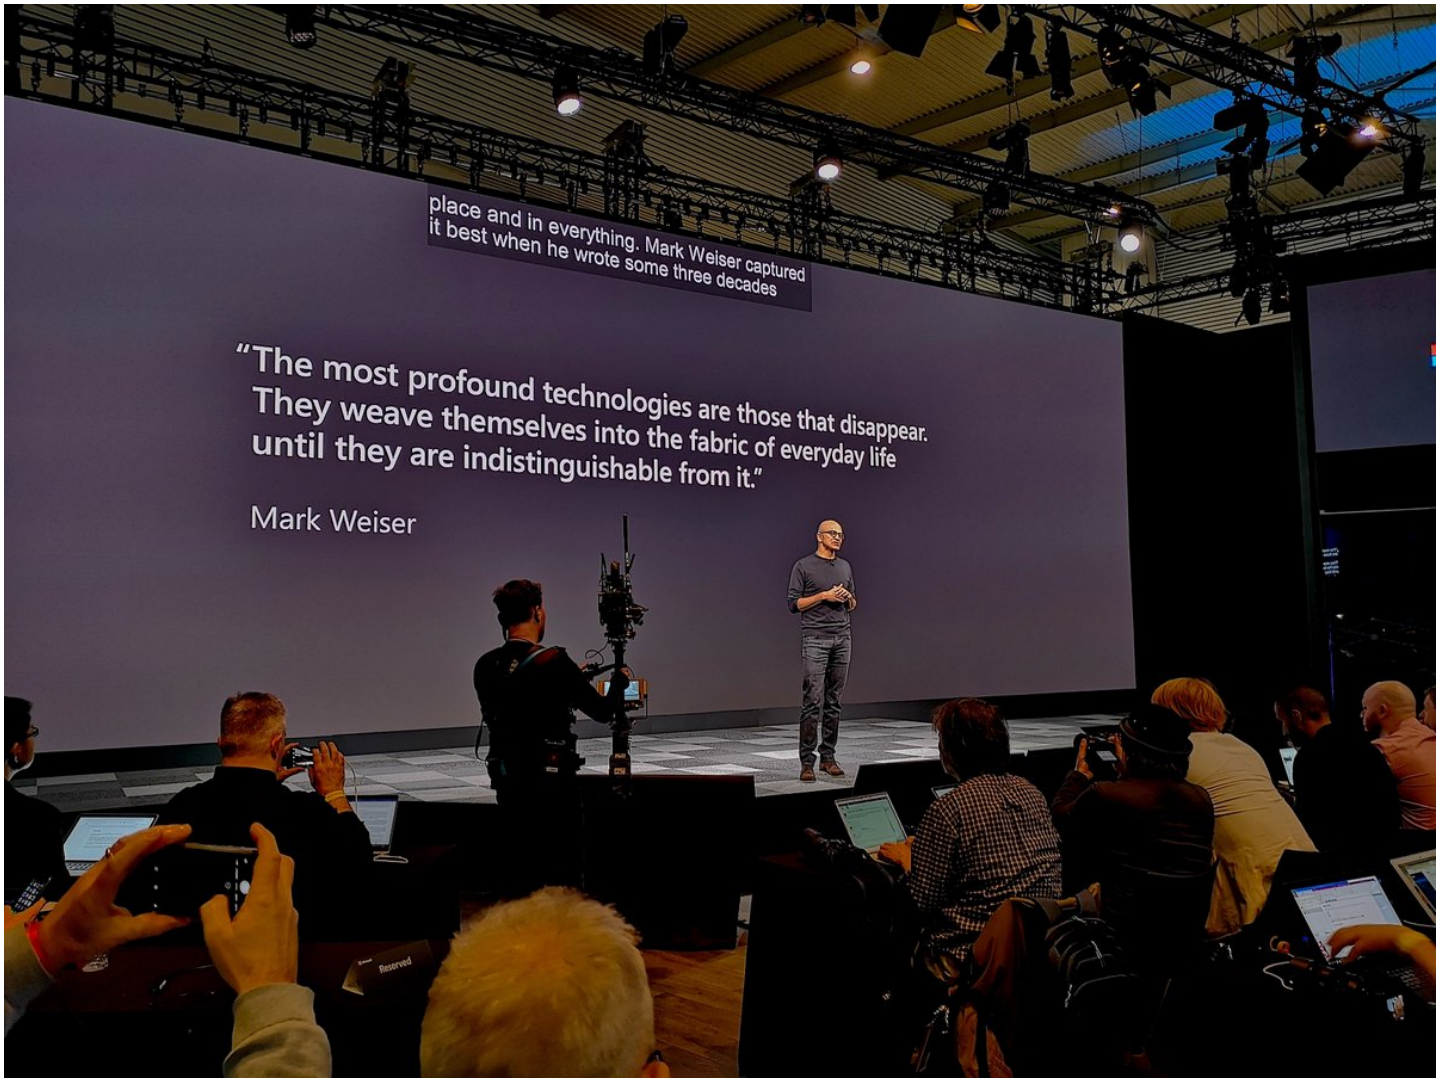

"The fourth industrial revolution - it's a fusion of the physical, the digital & the biological world. It's changing not only what we are doing, it's changing who we are."

- Klaus Schwab, founder of World Economic Forum

#GreatReset

Schwab: "The speed is mind boggling. What I'm particularly concerned about, is how little the world is prepared."

Satya Nadella, #Mircosoft: "It's really the notion of digital technology pervasively impacting every walk of life & every [] industry, in all parts of the globe."

"Harnessing this revolution requires the involvements of all #stakeholders. From #public & private sectors, to #academia & civil society."

March 2019: 4 centers: US, India, Japan, China. Present: affiliate centers (currently 9), to form a global network, will roll out at scale.

Affiliate Centres selected to join the Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Network can access and share research and analysis across our Centres and portfolio areas.

Combined with emerging technology policy initiatives managed locally, Affiliate Centres will play a vital role in helping to shape the development of national Fourth Industrial Revolution strategies and public-private initiatives.

Organizations eligible to join the C4IR Network as Affiliates include governmental offices, advisory commissions or related research bodies, academic institutes or universities, non-profit organizations or business associations. Affiliates will actively engage with their host government in the policy design and piloting activities.

Affiliate Centres include:

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution United Arab Emirates

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Colombia

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution South Africa

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Ocean (located in Norway)

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Israel

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Saudi Arabia

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Rwanda

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Turkey

Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution Brazil

Sept 24, 2019: Aker group & WEF announced establishment of the Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution #Norway (#C4IRNorway). The Centre officially opened Jan. 1, 2020.

One area of focus will be #ocean #mining, #deepseamining.

"The sought plunder of the Earth's #oceans contributes to 10 of the 17 "sustainable development" goals.

To plunder the planet's oceans, under the guise of #climate emergency & protecting #biodiversity, is beyond the pale."
