Top 25 companies in 1995 whose 25-year return CAGR was lower than that of the Sensex (9.2%)

Note: P to L stands for Profit to Loss

3.Corporate profit to GDP at all-time lows + Market cap to GDP close to an all-time high.

Corporate Profit to GDP at all-time lows

We seem to have hit the bottom in corporate profits. Corporate Profit to GDP has stagnated for the last 5 years. This is similar to 1999 to 2003, after which corporate profits took off for the next 5 years.

4. Permanent change in the long term interest rate band is leading to a change in valuation expectations.

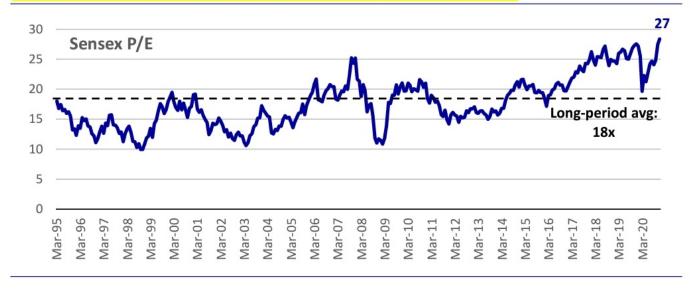

Interest rates are softening

Permanent change in long-term interest rate band (from 12-14% to 6-8%) is leading to change in valuation expectations. Current valuations are supported by expected PAT revival after 5 years of stagnation and high liquidity led by low interest rates.
