

Twitter Thread by Peter Foster

Peter Foster

@pmdfoster

■■■■■■■■email from Robert Hardy @RobHardyFR8 whose Customs Clearance Consortium is part of govt's £200m scheme for GB-NI border warns of "huge shortage" of customs agents. Via @SJAMcBride /1

<https://t.co/WoLWdl8LoF>

“There is a huge shortage of customs agents and whilst this might not be visible just yet, it will be from tonight as the pressure will be on export documentation.

“We understand that France have already started to send vehicles back for not having the correct documentation.”

He adds: “Export from GB with import to Ireland [is] amongst the most complicated...We expect heavy volumes at Dover from tonight as GB exports start to ramp up and many transporters do not have transit and EU clearance in place.”

...remember @BrandonLewis 'no border' tweet ■/2

Tweet

Brandon Lewis

@BrandonLewis

There is no 'Irish Sea Border'. As we have seen today, the important preparations the Govt and businesses have taken to prepare for the end of the Transition Period are keeping goods flowing freely around the country, including between GB and NI.

Brexit: New Irish Sea trade border begins operating bbc.co.uk

17:21 · 01/01/2021 · Twitter for iPhone

He then warns - as @RHARichardB had warned - that the issue is companies providing poorly cleansed/matched data...and announces CCC doesn't have capacity to raise docs in mainland EU/3

He said: “Raising export or import documents in mainland Europe: whilst this has always been our intention there is simply too much pressure keeping up with the current flows. With immediate effect, we will NOT be raising documents in mainland Europe and would urge you to make contact with a local agent. We can, of course, raise transit documents from GB (providing you clearly show the office of destination on the RPA template).

“Many EU agents are also under pressure and are more familiar with containerized traffic where there is more time (weeks in some cases) to prepare documents.”

This is example of what Biz needs to do when moving agri foods - hauliers and vets tell me there is still no solution from Defra/Daera on how to do multiple pickups that require export health certificates at each stop (not uncommon) /4

“If you require a CHED (TRACES NT) you must send us the export health certificate with the RPA sheet. We cannot complete the TRACES entry without it. Please ensure the EHC scan is less than 2Mb as this is the maximum file size allowed by the TRACES NT system. No EHC (export health cert), no TRACES! Please remember that 24hours notice is required for the Border Control Post. The clock does not start until the CHED is lodged.”

In the next week or two we'll see how these issue play into supply chains - and the issue that trucks flow in a cycle, GB-NI/IE-GB...so you need enough returning to keep the flow going. /5

I've been sent pic of Sainsbury's in NI (Lisburn) stocking meat from Spar, which is making folk curious - tho not clear exactly why. /6

That's not necessarily an issue - meat is meat - and it's likely that supply chains will reorientate anyway.

Also Supermarkets to NI get a host of easements and derogations to keep show on the road.../7

It may be that the greater hassle is in goods that want to transit to GB via Ireland at short notice...which seems to be an unresolved areas.

But tbh everyone is gonna have to wait and see how this shakes down. /8

Be interesting to see take of @MichaelAodhan @Freight_NI at NI Affairs select cmme this AM (0930). You can watch here.
ENDS

<https://t.co/zYIXR4XIZh>

Ps. The inestimable @JP_Biz has the answer to the Sainsbury's stocking Spar meat curiosity. Contingency planning.

<https://t.co/G0sXMnmI2W>