

Twitter Thread by Marissa Goldberg

Marissa Goldberg

@mar15sa

Why you SHOULDN'T move to Miami from an ex-Floridian:

1. No income tax may not mean you'll be paying less.

The government still needs to fund everything and they have to get the money from somewhere. Pay attention to sales and property tax rates. Also, lack of wealth distribution efforts puts extra pressure on the poor.

2. The weather is not friendly.

Be prepared for extreme humidity that will cause changes in your skin and hair. And the bugs that come with it. The seasons are hot and hotter. Tornadoes and hurricanes are not outside of the norm. My own home was destroyed by 2004 hurricanes.

3. Florida man is a thing.

Maybe it's the heat or something in the water but bizarre things happen in Florida. I don't know another state that has an entire subreddit dedicated to their crazy stories. Go check it out if you need entertainment.

/r/floridaman

- ▲ 2679 Florida man wearing gloves steals all the chicken wings at 7-Eleven, officials say (wsoc.tv.com)
▼ 90 comments FloridaMan

ad

Grubhub

Order food delivery you'll love

- ▲ 146 Florida man chef tests positive for coronavirus, goes to work anyway, then fires his entire staff after they say working with him in the kitchen maybe isn't the best idea (tampabay.com)
▼ 1 comment FloridaMan

- ▲ 8 Florida Man has no idea when he can get vaccinated, because top Florida Man is silent (tampabay.com)
▼ 1 comment FloridaMan

- ▲ 2563 Florida Woman learns to ride bike at 41 despite unhelpful Florida Man children (tampabay.com)
▼ 27 comments FloridaMan

- ▲ 22 Florida Man accused of setting his own truck on fire to give deputies 'something to do' (clickorlando.com)
▼ 2 comments FloridaMan

- ▲ 13 Florida Woman accused of burglarizing Martin County gas station says she did it out of boredom (cbs12.com)
▼ 0 comments FloridaMan

- ▲ 72 Florida Man is named 2020 Scoundrel of the Year (newrepublic.com)
▼ 8 comments FloridaMan

- ▲ 2187 FloridaMan, While Arguing With His Girlfriend At 4:30AM, Follows Through With Threat To Lie Down In The Middle

Most importantly, don't move somewhere just because it went viral!

The best part about the expansion of remote work this year is you can finally choose where to live based on what makes you happy rather than where you "have" to be. Take advantage!

<https://t.co/xOqIEgdMfq>

4. Living where you want vs. where the work is:

You don't have to live in a tiny, expensive place just because that's where the jobs are. Miss small town life? Want to travel more? Be close to family? Choose a place that will make you happiest instead of a place you "have" to be

— Marissa Goldberg (@mar15sa) August 2, 2020

All these reasons (and many more) led me to move out of Florida after 20+ years in 2015. I've been back exactly once since then.

If you're moving to FL because it makes you happy, go for it. But if you're interested because it's "in" at the moment, maybe give it more thought...