OKAY!

Yes... that was my very dramatic first reaction.

Yes... we still have viable paths to victory.

But now we must do more than hold the line. We need to start looking ahead to what victory will really look like.

Because as I've tried to show you, They have.

Here is what we absolutely know to be true:

1. They fucking cheated.

And it wasn't just Biden. Senators, Representatives, State Attorney Generals, Governors, Mayors... all the local initiatives...

We really do not yet know the extent of the this. If those currently in positions of power are legitimately there by the will of the people.

We don't know if the procedures that allowed this were put in place by officials with no rights to the offices that allowed them to do so.

2. We know half of this nation and all of the rest of the world is being told that even Trump's own (illegitimately gained) Supreme Court is against him.

I have family in Italy & Germany. They were shocked to discover there was any reason to doubt the legitimacy of Biden's win.

The media has absolutely and with clear intent fabricated a narrative and are acting in concert to spread it faster and farther than COVID.

Hey, non sequitor: isn't it funny that in the Hunger Games she was a Mockingjay?

That's a bird that mocks, right?

A mocking bird?

And now I think I know who is funding the media.

It's not who you think, though I'm sure they help a great deal.

My big brother just sent me an article and called me to discuss it.

I trust my big brother's brain...

It would appear that we are the ones paying them to spread propaganda.

Now, I had remembered that somehow Obama made propaganda against Americans legal again, but I didn't connect that the funding, ultimately, came from us.

Here is the link to full article.

I just got off the phone with my brother, so I haven't yet been able to give it the full attention it deserves.

But like I said, I trust my brother's sources.

That They have been so effective in "harmonizing" the global narrative that "Everyone knows Biden and Harris are the legitimate incoming leaders, and Trump and the states & people who support them are now insane revolutionaries should frighten you all.

Let me put it another way: I don't listen to Country radio. It's not that I hate it. I just don't seek it out.

It must seem insane to Country Music fans that I can't name a song or artist in the Top Ten or that I only know what Blake Shelton looks like because of The Voice.

Right now, it legitimately sounds insane to half our nation and the rest of the world that we believe we are the rightful victors here—not necessarily because they hate us, but because they legitimately don't get the information we actively seek out.

They have been told that we are dangerous.

And not just by Don Lemon.

They've now been told by our own high-ranking elected officials.

This spectacle matters, because it gives enormous credibility to the notion that we are radical fringe theorists.

They are structuring a very believable narrative that we have now infiltrated Congress.

They aren't stupid. They know it's bullshit.

But they also know the rest of the world has no reason to doubt their claim. They don't listen to the same radio station we do.

Very powerful and very wealthy people are helping to give that narrative credence.

I know it seems like I'm rambling, but please stick with.
I want you to understand the reality of what we are up against.

That doesn't mean I feel defeated. Not at all!

It means I want to play smarter than they do. I want to be ready for what we will have to face before our victory feels like a victory.

So while this thread sounds negative now, I am writing it so we do not underestimate our enemy. We anticipate them.

So look at how I searched for that last article, and what Google pulled up in the top 3 spots.

The third reinforces the "delusional people are now in Congress" narrative—that was the beginning of the wrap-up smear that legitimized the events of 3 days ago.

And then there is the 5 Fast Facts funded by the Pew Research Center.

The Pew Charitable Trusts show up everywhere Soros, Ford, the Rockerfellers and Bill & Mindy are. They are THAT kind of Globalist power.

In 2016, their assets totaled more than 1 billion dollars.

So, it would be a mistake to underestimate the power, scope and reach of Project Mockingbird. They are taking it very seriously.

We must learn how to effectively counter it & reach those outside our bubble.

4. Assuming justice does indeed prevail and the election is overturned, we know what they plan on doing because they told us.

In the event of a clear Trump win, CA, WA & OR threaten to secede.

The response to that is always Good Riddance!

Here's why that's a really shitty plan:

They have the Pacific ports—which would open up a direct supply of weapons, supplies and if necessary, smuggled Chinese soldiers dressed up like Antifa soy boys.

And before you say Insurrection Act! or "it'd be a short war because we have the guns"...

First, see above.

Second, you need to imagine autonomous zones instantly & simultaneously springing up across the nation, only instead of CHAZ idiots, they are well armed and organized.

Imagine every major atrial highway & every road in and out of every city either requiring vaccination passports for you to proceed or blockaded by armed, trained soldiers to the cause.

Because they HAVE been trained. We will see a very different Antifa/BLM group than previously.
