Am I about to watch Point Break for the umpteenth time?

It is the me plus ultra good/bad movie

The first five minutes of this film is a symphony of terribly awesome dialog

Whatever happened to LA bank robberies? Like was that really such a thing or did Hollywood just persuade us it was so?

Every 20something throughout time to their more seasoned colleagues

And...that's how that game ends

Lori Petty is maybe not the example of how Hollywood ends actresses when they reach into their 30s but...

(Do not tell me about her issues before searching memory banks about male peers)

So...is it likely that a premier college football player would be given a run for his money by a bunch of (even very good) surfers I, illuminated by headlights?

The amazingly terrible ensemble job that went into this. So bad it is transcendent levels

This is some first week on the job sass!

Honestly, amazing data reporting

Subtitles giving me a whole new read on this scene

"That time one of the biggest emerging bands fought the two biggest move stars..."

Using the RHCP’s “Over The Edge” is maybe not just taking about just talking about adrenaline junkies...
