@BorisDPython

This is the ball-less-ness and spinelessness that has completely festered across our great land through years of complex information warfare campaigns.

The Preamble to the US Constitution is WE THE PEOPLE, it is a list of things the state CANNOT do.

But "public safety"

This \u2018Free Man\u2019 will:

- go home in a car that is insured (\u2018cos the govt says so).
- drive below the speed limit (\u2018cos the govt says so)
- put his kid in a baby seat (\u2018cos govt says so)
- Not drink and drive (govt says so).

Bottom line: we limit some \u2018freedoms\u2019 for public safety is determined by whom? We the people? Well that can't be accurate. Generally those recommendations come from the UN, the WHO, the CDC. Those bodies are funded internationally often from United States tax dollars; however, not with representation of the people.

So public safety rules are by definition the exact same concept that caused the American Revolution from the Boston Tea Party. There was British Royal Crown taxation on tea, despite the fact the royal crown had no claim to the new American colonies labor land or resources.

Public safety rules are being imposed by unelected, unaccountable new middle class. There is an ultra elite now that runs the worlds money supply, big pharma, big food, defense contracts, and money laundering operations, and then you have

The new middle class of deep state swamp protection that makes up Communist Party adherence and other useful idiots who are rewarded for believing all the propaganda and being the enforcers. The final class is everyone else. The people the plandemic was created for, the people that the #bioweapon #vaccine was created for. All the talk we've heard about Universal Basic Income was not because the ultra rich elites love everyone and want to take care of them, they want dependence on the farm prior to slaughter.

UBI would require the Federal government to borrow untold trillions from Zionist bankers to give away with while nothing productive is created in this country and the wealth is exfiltrated to other nations. This is the future designed for us by public safety. This is the future planned by the monopoly men who have been itching for depopulation since WWII and got caught. You can hear it in the Zeitgeist today. Think of how common it is to hear people accept the idea that mass sterilization is a good thing. That the population needs to be managed, that if "we" (when really that means 'they') need to manage the population because it's getting so "out of control" with our food supply with fossil fuels with our environmental damage, etc. but who is pushing this messaging?

The food supply is a problem? Says who? Bill Gates? The guy who has his wealth tied up in GMO food companies and are creating national security issues for countries around the world by having seeds that can't be regrown?

Fossil fuels are a problem? Is that from the Rothschilds who originally amassed their wealth from the oil industry and now they are losing their dominance on the monopoly they would like to regulate competition out of existence?

And environmental damage? Who is damaging the environment? Isn't the legal structure of a corporation preventing individuals from being personally responsible for the damages they cause to land and other externalities? All of these things are globalist created problems, yet

We hear we need "global solutions" we need "public health" we need "less dangerous freedom"

It's time to #FightBack

It's time a new American Revolution

It's time for a new Boston Tea Party where we realize the people making these public safety rules do not represent #wethepeople or our interests. The sooner we realize that social distancing is social conditioning to prevent us from decentralizing and creating our own economies outside of the existing monopoly structure the more powerful we will become. We have the tools. It's on us to do it.
