Philosopher Kin vs Big Brother

#DavidAttenborough annoys me, because he's had an extremely privileged life at the expense of his own race & of our planet's biodiversity he has devoted much of his life to documenting.

He doesn't recognise this, of course, but means well, dissolving my annoyance into sadness.

David Attenborough Still Has Hope for Our Future

At 94, the beloved British naturalist remains curious and optimistic. He talked about his new docu-series, "A Perfect Planet," and why the coronavirus may prove to have some positive consequences.

Of course, he has hope for the future, because to recognise the truth would destroy his self-image as a fabulously successful individual.

The truth is that he & the White elite he belongs to have totally fucked up. https://t.co/y0Oz9JeR2y

> Western civilisation has a fatal flaw, which is leading to its self-destruction. It's a flaw inherent to ALL civilisations, which is why they NEVER last.
> It can be fixed, I believe, but only if recognised & understood, which demands an evolutionary perspective.

What does this have to do with Race (the fact that #DavidAttenborough is White), you ask?

Race is our largest kinship group, contempt for which lies at the heart of our civilisation's self-destructiveness. You can't truly care about anything, if you don't also care about that.

As a biologist, of all people, David Attenborough should recognise this, & how civilisation perverts & corrupts evolved human nature into prioritising personal POWER & advantage over kinship, but like #RichardDawkins & all the others, he fails to do so.

On the Nature of the State

The state conflates and confounds VERY different aspects of the original tribal environment in which human nature evolved, long before the first states and civilisations emerged from it, with the modern "nation state" now deceitfully posing as our tribe or nation (intra- and inter-tribal environment) itself, while at the same time facilitating society's SELF-exploitation (as an extra-tribal environment, on a par with the natural environment, which we are also exploiting to destruction) to the personal advantage of its ruling elites and favoured (especially wealthy and academic/formerly priestly) clients, at the expense of society at large & future generations.

The state is like an abusive step-parent which did away with our natural, loving parents (our original tribes and nations) before we were even born, bringing us up to believe that it is our natural loving parent (nation), genuinely concerned for all its children's (citizens') well-being and future happiness, when in fact, its primary purpose is to facilitate society's self-abuse and exploitation.

The state does serve us, of course, and we are all dependent on it (at the very least, to enforce the rule of law and non-violence), but as a shepherd serves his flock, which is not for the flock's sake (notwithstanding any genuine concern he may feel for a lost of injured lamb), but for his own and/or his employer's sake, for the meat and wool the flock provides and can be exchanged at market for money.

Why this failure, even of evolutionary biologists, to recognise the importance of kinship?

1) The state (#BigBrother) has always demanded that we prioritise loyalty to itself over kin.

2) The bonds of kinship are TRIBAL, which, in overreaction to Nazi tribalism, is demonised.

This is why our elites, who are necessarily beholden to the state (as are we ALL), have embraced the ideology of White racial self-denial & self-contempt, which now dominates the West, esp. it seems, in Britain, France & America & is behind woke #AntiRacism = #AntiWhiteism.

The Nazis manipulated & abused German tribalism for their own evil purposes, which demonising human tribalism itself was a misconceived, knee-jerk, #NeverAgain response to, that is now paving the way to hell. https://t.co/KwEBwadWCf

We need to UNDERSTAND human tribalism, along with the importance of kinship & race, & learn how to work with them in a rational & civilised fashion, if we want to create the just, humane & sustainable societies on which our very survival depends.

It is no coincidence that most of the world's multi-millionaires & billionaires are White, at a time when their own race is in steep decline & within a few generations will have been replaced by other races, & by a plundered & spoiled planet. #GreatReplacement #WhiteSelfGenocide
