Aries, Leo, Sagittarius, 2021 tarot reading -

2020 was a year of rebirth and awakening for you. A lot of you went through a massive change, which lead you to discover who you are on a deeper level, and open your eyes to a whole different side of life, and what you want from it

I see a big change happened for you last year. Something that you thought was going to be in your life forever, or someone, wasn't anymore. There was a certain direction you saw yourself going in, but last year caused you to have to re-evaluate that, and that wasn't easy for you.

I see here a lot of you could have dealt with a break up. This person could have lacked emotional maturity when handling this, therefore causing you a lot of pain. I see this whole situation triggered a lot within you. A lot of fears, and negative behaviours came to the surface.

This may have highlighted some of the aspects of yourself you did not want to see or face, but ultimately you had to. I do see this is something you're still working through, which there's nothing wrong with of course! Everything, especially healing, takes time! And that is okay

I do see that last year you spent a lot of time analysing your thoughts. You may have spent a lot of time alone, going through this rebirth and transformation. You should be proud of yourself for this, as it wasn't easy, but you got through it!

I do see that you still are carrying somewhat of a heavy load, whether you admit that or not. There's a strong need here to get more in touch with your feminine energy. It doesn't matter your gender, we all have both energies inside us. This means getting more in touch with your

Emotions, inner child, creativity, passions, nature. You may have been in your masculine energy a bit too much, which is all about survival and working hard etc, but you need to balance both. I see this as something you will be working on this year, which will really help bring

A lot more passion, fun and positivity into your life. It will also help you gain more confidence, as you work out where some self worth issues and feelings of not being good enough come from. I do see you are / may be feeling a bit defensive of yourself when it comes to love.

You may be putting yourself out there, but not fully opening up or allowing yourself to be vulnerable. Like I said, there's still some things to be worked on from whatever this painful situation was, whether it was a break up or just someone who really hurt you emotionally. It

Could have been a friend also. I see you're fearful for the same thing to happen again. You might not want to let your guard down, Incase someone betrays your trust again, and you end up hurt. However I do see you realising this is no way to live, and being in this mindset

Won't bring you happiness. I also see in regards to money and career, you may have felt a little run down recently. I'm also getting the message that it's important you don't use money / career to mask any hurts you have. I won't lie, I do see some things need to be figured out

Within you here. There are some behaviours you might still have that hurt others around you, and will end up hurting yourself. Be careful not to act out of fear and defensiveness around others, especially those who are trying to be there for you or are your loved ones.

I only say this because I can see here, though it's not intentional, because of your fears and feeling in this defensive mindset, you may hurt others by doing so. You're so afraid to be hurt you may unknowingly be doing the same to others, so that's something to consider!

This is not to make you feel bad, but it's a message here so I won't ignore it. I also feel like this year, you need to make sure you are balanced when it comes to spirituality and being in the real world. Don't use drugs or spiritual practises as a way to escape your feelings.

It ties into what I was saying before about the masc / fem energy. It's all about balance for you this year. Making sure you're not too much in your dream world, but also not being too much focused on the 3D and mundane things.

It's important for you to get grounded this year too! Work on that root chakra. Yes, spirituality is cool and everything, but you have to be grounded in your lower 3 chakras (root, sacral, solar plexus) before you can start developing your third eye and crown, because Otherwise you will lack the ability to ground the information you receive spiritually. Also, upping your protection from negative people or energies. This is why it's important to ground and cleanse. You may have some energies around you that you need to rid yourself of.

Anyway, all that aside, I see this year bringing you a lot of happiness. Those were like the advise messages from spirit, but now I'll tell you about some things that may be happening!

For starters, I do see that as you come out of hermit mode after all this healing I spoke about, you may find that things quickly begin to take off for you! You may be studying something new, and rethinking your career path, which actually will really pay off!

If you've been in a career which has been feeling draining, dull or just plain boring, I see that though a change may be a little 'tricky' in the sense, it may take some time and you may have to study, once all that is done, it will be much better for you and bring you a lot

Of joy and success! Tbh this may be something creative you want to pursue, in which case I'd say go after it! I see you being presented with an opportunity this year to make some money, which I believe you will accept. This seems like something you may be a bit of a beginner at

BUT I do see you finding a lot of emotional fulfilment through doing this. I also see (depending on covid restrictions) you are going to be travelling this year, possibly with friends! You may be going to somewhere on the coast, and I see a lot of sun! Which is nice!

I see this as being a very cleansing and beautiful time for you. You may even meet someone while you're travelling that you have a romantic interest in, OR this may be someone you go on holiday with, who you find you have romantic feelings for!

The moon is here twice! So I think paying attention to the moon cycles this year is very important for you! It may help you understand why you feel a certain way at certain times. For example, you may feel emotional and tired when the moon is in cancer, but when it goes into

Leo, you suddenly feel energised and confident! This may confuse you, but looking into the moon, what it does and how it affects you personally is really helpful for you this year! (time passages is a great app for this!)

I see you coming to get more intune with your own spirituality and intuition this year. No matter where you're at in your spiritual journey, there's always more to learn. I see you connecting with guides and ancestors more, and also learning about your past lives, and how

They actually are still affecting you in this life. I'd recommend doing a past life meditation, or getting a past life reading, as it may help you understand certain karma / fears / behaviours / mindsets you have, which come from a past life. Also,

Working on some trauma from your childhood and recognising how your parents have, most likely unknowingly, influenced your mindset as you've grown up to maybe not the healthiest. There may be some conditioning around love, emotions or relationships that come from your parents

That you're beginning to realise actually aren't that healthy, and that's okay. They're human too, but knowing what you know, you can change how you live your life and your own mindset accordingly. Your perspective on things is changing this year, for the better, and it looks

Beautiful. I'm not saying this year won't come without it's difficult moments and sometimes it might even feel like the weight of the world is on your shoulders, but you have to always remember the reason you are doing this healing. Breaking generational curses and patterns is

Tough, I know, but you have got the strength to do all this healing and come out on top. Your ancestors, higher self and guides chose you for this as they knew you had the strength to do this. As you do heal from generational traumas etc, you actually release your Ancestors from these bounds too, and you will notice a massive relief and shift when this happens. Pay attention to signs from your guides this year. They are wanting to strengthen your bond. Ask for specific signs and watch them come to you.

I see positive development this year for you, in all areas. I see you growing a lot emotionally, which will either deepen the connection you're in, or bring a new one about. Strong Virgo, Leo, cancer, Aquarius energy. This person and you will have a very deep, but joyful Connection! This does look like new energy to me but maybe someone you've known already. This is something that will naturally come though, I don't see a need to rush. This person is very emotionally mature and has a happiness / brightness to them which lifts others.

However they may also have been through a lot, and there may be a lot of hidden feelings here, which is why it's important you both heal emotionally first, so there's no defensiveness like I mentioned earlier!!

Be confident this year. Follow your intuition more and learn to get into touch with your deepest emotions and feminine energy. Show yourself compassion, and others too. Don't give into fear this year. Take time out if you need it. You've got this! ■♥■

A lot of people have been asking where to tip so here's the link. Tips are massively appreciated but not required, they just allow me to keep doing general readings like this one
