I never said I knew more or less than you.

I have asked you for citations to support your assertions and to explain the relevance of some of your assertions, both of which you have demonstrated incapable of doing.

Maybe you are just incapable?

@heatherpeno ...and @heatherpeno blocks conceding and demonstrating that she cannot support her assertions or explain the relevance of some of her assertions to the original conversation (https://t.co/BzO0Xu2kGG). Her loss.

Paternal legal surrender is not yet a thing in any jurisdiction I am aware of but the female equivalents are legal (though not all of them are legal everywhere): abortion, baby Moses laws, unilateral adoption, etc.

Do you have a citation to the contrary?
