I was inspired by @kimrunner and looked deeper into the cover photo of @EzraACohen today, and was really blown away by what I saw

I'm Australian and I have never been there, nor have I ever seen that photograph, nor understand what it meant, but as I looked at it, God said ■

It's a picture of the Potoromac River and the word that God gave me straight up was "Leviathan" I didn't even know what that meant. And I could see it flows straight to the Washington Memorial - are we watching the water?

I could see that this water creates a catastrophic flood, to off set what will ultimately be an infiltration by Chinese in tunnel labyrinths under the Memorial to infiltrate and create terror at the inauguration. Mark my words, both God and the Military are already prepared.

Here may be where we 'watch the water' as I saw the water rise up. When I searched "Leviathan Potomac" up came guidance about Franklin Roosevelt and how his conception of America deteriotated and was worlds apart from Jefferson's vision. Roosevelt stands for the government that is a vast, unfathomable, bureaucratic apparatus that itself has become the "Leviathan" which recognises no limits of power, either home or overseas, and with the desire for power that wants to have it run the whole world and ever corner of the Globe

Looking deeper here, I also noted that a quick search points me to the Mark Centre. It's accessed via the interstate 395 (17) to a place where 6,000 DOD staff report to work each day, and is a renown spot for being a 'soft terrorist attack' - is this the marker we are looking for:

"LEVIATHAN". I didn't even know what that meant. I looked it up and it refers to one of the creatures mentioned in the Book of Job (41), an ancient dragon "even as Job was powerless against Leviathan he was also powerless against Satan. ■

I then was instructed to look up the area of the maps, and determine where it was, so I did. As I did I could see that the Potoromac river flowed directly to the Lincoln Memorial. There will be Chinese infiltration here,

Even as Job was powerless against Leviathan (as all men are), so he was also powerless against an unleashed Satan set against him. Only God could defeat Leviathan and Satan. “Satan may be typified here by behemoth and leviathan (thanks @BeJay31688996)

Be that as it may, the question left with Job was this: ‘Canst thou?’ Thus he was called to the recognition of his own impotence in many directions, and at the same time to a remembrance of the power of God.” (Morgan)

Making reference to its serpent like nature, Leviathan is illustrating that GOD is celebrating his Triump(h), though at this point, Job doesn't know it and is still in fear as it is "king over all the Children of Pride" one of the two monsters who dominates the land.

Summary: be mindful of what you see, don't believe everything that is being put in front of you. We are going to be tested, and there will be losses. Mark my words. Pray and invite angelic intervention to lessen the blow.

God bless you all. Be strong have faith.

Powerful Gematria points to what may well occur on the inauguration, please pray.
