Twitter Thread by ■■Al■■

■■Al■■
@city_lark

If you've donated to @BorahaeFunds, I would suggest disputing with your bank account in hopes to get your money back and defund them. The amount of money they have... it's a scam at this point if they're going against donors/@BTS_twt wishes of funding Life Goes On.

I was in a group chat with one of the admins who was really rude and aggressive when I asked about donations when they first appeared.

Their original statement was "we will not be receiving funds. We have our own private funds to fund Armys" & their account was originally only suppose to track funds. Others in the chat questioned them & even stated that it was misleading if it was only meant to track funds.

Their account within the first weeks was deleted and then reappeared again. And then, within weeks they started accepting funds. That already seemed suspicious to me. But I gave them the benefit of the doubt when they kept their word and funded Armys despite those inconsistencies

Lately, however, they've been inconsistent and lying about their intentions with other peoples money. Not your own money. This changes things. That is a scam @BorahaeFunds .

Screenshots about when I personally told people to proceed with caution

https://t.co/Fysac5EdOc

https://t.co/oy6a8l3SX7

https://t.co/No8FMkkxsk

Again, they did gain my trust with time because they were funding Armys but if you're taking others people's money and not following through with what you originally promised was the plan, you are a scammer.