https://t.co/fnUiCwLYWR | “HIV doesn't seem to take over the cells in your nervous system. But it does cause major inflammation in the body. This inflammation can harm the spinal cord and brain. It can also stop your nerve cells from working the way that they should.”

Guess who funds Northwestern University not to mention HIV in the study?! https://t.co/r31rFHC9AT https://t.co/c9SANDSnjU | When the Illinois shut-down occurred, they had just received a grant from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to produce their critical technology related to the COVID-19 crisis in partnership with Northwestern University.

The medical devices being manufactured by Sibel and Northwestern University measure heart rate, respiratory rates, and temperature with ICU-grade accuracy. Soon, the devices will also measure blood oxygenation levels, a vital aspect of early diagnosis.

Also, entrusting the manufacturing of this product to contract manufacturers would put Northwestern at risk of losing their proprietary knowledge and design.

Northwestern has benefitted from the new equipment so much that they decided to order a second production line from Manncorp.

https://t.co/on4GYuiTVS | Manncorp, in conjunction with rework specialist Bernhard Martin, released its study on "Red Ring of Death" failures in Microsoft XBox systems, along with a rework proposal for repairs on the gaming console's motherboards.

https://t.co/VMlEE18Kbz | The Northwestern project is the first physical science and engineering proposal to be granted funding from the RAPID program in response to the call, according to the university.

Last week, the National Science Foundation received $75 million from the federal $2 trillion coronavirus economic relief package. https://t.co/95a1hdSKLS https://t.co/GENM3xbvVx The NSF would get a sweeping remake including a new name, a huge infusion of cash, and responsibility for maintaining U.S. global leadership in innovation under bipartisan bills that have just been introduced in both houses of Congress.

Passage of the legislation could significantly alter how NSF operates. In particular, agency officials would have the authority to adopt some of the management practices used by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) within the Department of Defense.

asking it to lead the government’s effort to develop new technologies. “I believe it would be a mistake for a technology directorate at NSF to serve as an offset to private funding for commercial innovation and entrepreneurship,” says Arden Bement, who led NSF from 2004 to 2010.

You are all in a World Group DENIAL/SUPPRESSION experience phenomenon aka BRAINWASHED BY MAINSTREAM MEDIA!! https://t.co/HwaOBnURBK https://t.co/bL1BezvmZ0 The media is creating repeated messages so that it gets captured and stored in our subconscious mind. These stored messages compel you to extract data from the sub-conscious mind. This is how your decision gets influenced.

https://t.co/zUNzpOyrgJ

Media does more than just present information. They also influence people's perception by producing a wide range of acceptable responses to the information, once that are clandestinely presented as "from the people," but were carefully crafted through omission and fabrication in order to promote the notion of "public opinion."

power of our country. We are governed, our minds are molded, our tastes formed, and our ideas suggested, largely by men we have never heard of…. It is they who pull the wires that control the public mind.

https://t.co/TMnVurMzts ‘Brainwashing’ may have been debunked but it was also an effective idea, a kind of mirror onto perceived vulnerabilities in American society itself. And it often can be linked with racial, class and gender prejudices too, of course.
