Twitter Thread by ari

ari
@1_beresheet

https://t.co/aBoZVL90oh

https://t.co/AVFv4kd2dA

https://t.co/EMnCeqcEav

https://t.co/kp23fwD6Lq

https://t.co/yKpwOVt8Ka

https://t.co/hIs882ENJr

https://t.co/cDQIh05WPL

https://t.co/dMP8qZ4cvz

https://t.co/xdatD8GfgC

"It is not surprising that the populaces rebel against this attempt to erase their own identity, their history, their language, and their specificity."

"The U.N. elites dream of a world government that would rule peoples, cultures, and traditions that were formerly so different. It is a dream that borders on madness and is a sign of the contempt of the peoples for their riches."

"Indeed, the world in which we are living seems to have destroyed its boundaries. Why have wars never been as numerous as now? In Syria, in Libya, in Afghanistan, in Central Africa, the chaos is indescribable."

"Does globalization have to benefit a few privileged individuals? Are Western armies not spending their time fighting poor people?"

"The globalist ideology is based solely on financial interests. No one pities the poor and the weak. But the powerful have all the rights."

"...it is necessary to consider carefully the policies that fight against social inequalities. The promise of equality is often a banner waved by the most selfish financial powers."

"Today, however, democracies are held hostage by powerful financial oligarchies."

"Look at the shameless way in which the power of the people is ceaselessly thwarted in order to strengthen the power of a small group of privileged persons."

"I cannot believe that the bureaucratic institutions of the European Union really want to defend the interest of the peoples. Democracy has been deified. Now, though, it is displaying totalitarian excesses."

"Globalized humanity, without borders, is a hell."

"I continue to wonder about the causes that helped hand Libya over to extremely dangerous Mafia-like powers, which play a leading role in the trafficking of migrants."

"Man no longer loves himself. He no longer loves his neighbor or the land of his ancestors. He detests his culture and the values of the past."

"It is time to give [young Westerners] back the freedom to receive from their forefathers certitudes and rules based on experience. It is exhausting to have to reinvent everything ceaselessly."

all quotations from "The Day is Now Far Spent"