Twitter Thread by ScottishPanda

ScottishPanda
@PandaScottish

[thread] A small round up disassembling this desperate bullshit from Michael Gove

It's well written btw - deliberately so

> Great piece by @michaelgove in @TheSun on the Union - and guaranteed to leave we are family tune stuck in your head all weekend. https://t.co/ZuMcBKqLmW
>
> — Harry Cole (@MrHarryCole) January 29, 2021

"Scottish independence would break up our family… and families are strongest when they stick together"

A reminder: Over 100,000 dead due to the incompetence of Boris Johnson, Michael Gove and an entire government of sycophantic cronies

"THIS terrible pandemic has brought home to us all the importance of family. "

This is like when Stanley Johnson said that the UK only took coronavirus seriously when Boris Johnson got infected.

No - it didn't take a pandemic to remind me of the importance of family.